

County Housing Authority Will Reject Hilldale

Tenants Are Shocked, Have No Place to Go

Hilldale residents are dazed. They were shocked and puzzled about the future when they learned the Federal housing project may be razed. The Montgomery County Housing authority will not take it, free of charge, off the Government's hands. A sampling of the tenants of the 126-unit development at Lower Pottsgrove last night indicated the majority of the adults among the early 700 residents are at a loss as to what they will do if they are evicted by the Government. Unless the Government changes its mind they will accept eviction. A county housing authority official disclosed yesterday the authority cannot accept the Government's gift because it does not have the money to maintain the low-cost project. A majority of the tenants interviewed said last night they would sign eagerly any petition which may be circulated in an attempt to influence the Government into not razing the project. FRANK FRASCA, 23-C, Road 5, aluminum casting operator at Doehler-Jarvis Die Casting Corporation, said he had thought of filing a petition, but had not time so as yet. He added that this morning he is soliciting the aid of the Pottstown Political Action Committee through the president of Local 5, United Auto Workers, Leonard A. Keffer, at Doehler's. He said most of the tenants questioned, Frasca said he felt many of (Continued on Page Two)

Everyone Found Time for the Series

Most Work Stops As Borough Takes Time for Series

Like all other communities in this baseball-loving land, Pottstown was hit by the World Series yesterday. And "hit" just about describes the sweeping effect of the annual sporting event which engrossed nearly everybody between 1 and 3:30 p. m. With the exception of a few stray shoppers and pedestrians on nearly-deserted streets, most people had their eyes focused on TV screens or ears tuned to radios emitting the Yankees-Dodgers conflict in Brooklyn. To a visitor from some foreign land the expressions that dominated and will dominate the vocabularies of local fans during Series week would have been most difficult to understand. Everywhere you turned you heard, "Look at Snider put the wood to that one," or "That Black is really foggin' them through," and even women were heard to remark about "Pafko making a shoe-string catch on the Texas leaguer."

Well-Wishers Raise Bobby's Fund to $6402

Another $81.50 was added to the Bobby Walters Fund yesterday evening to a soap opera, but the and nine more contributors were thrill squeals of delight when added to the hundreds of Mercury Jackie Robinson hit a homer for readers who wish Bobby recovery the Dodgers told a different story from cancer and polio. Following is a list of yesterday's contributors: Edna Moyer, Souderton, 2.00; Harleyville Pants Factory Employees, 15.50; Pottstown Operators, Bell Telephone company, 28.00; Friend, Linfield, 1.00; Anonymous, Pottstown, 1.00; Women's Missionary Society, St. Luke's Lutheran church, Obelisk, 25.00; Friend, Linfield, "Wishes", 1.00; 4th grade, Amity Twp. sch., 3.00; Intermediate Green Lane Scout Troop, 5.00; Previously reported, 6320.83; Total, $6402.33.

Eviction Threatening Nearly 700 Persons

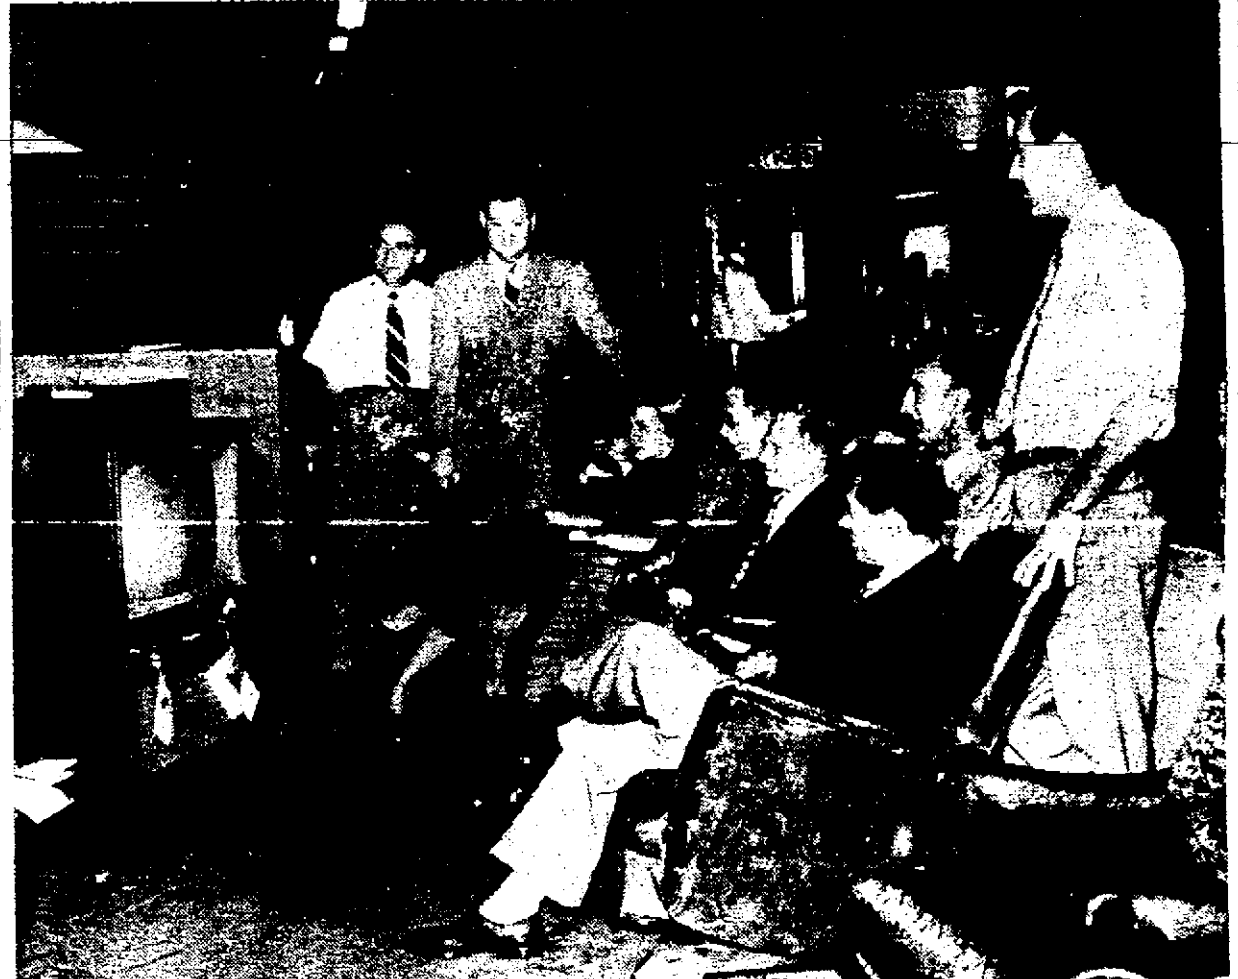

Montgomery County Housing authority will not accept ownership of Hilldale homes even as a gift. This was indicated yesterday by Felix Perry, Chairman Hill, chairman of the authority, which operates Hilldale for the Federal Government. The Government announced Tuesday it had decided definitely it had no further use for Hilldale, that it would offer to give both land and buildings to the authority, and that if the authority turned down the gift, it would close the project. There are nearly 700 people living in the 3-year-old "temporary" project. There are virtually no public housing units available now for these people to move into if they are required to leave Hilldale. Perry and Elmer L. Menges, Ambler, solicitor for the authority, 42, while the booming home run explained that the authority is a non-profit group with no "nest egg," and it could not afford to own and maintain the project. Sensational fielding by Andy Patko, Bill Cox, Carl Furillo and Jackie Robinson helped the 25-year-old Negro from Plainfield, N. J., over the rough spots. Wastewater Plant Construction Reviewed

Pottsgrove commissioners met back on nine months of late at their meeting last night, reviewing the steps which led up to beginning of operations at its sanitary pumping station at its meadow road and the Pennsylvania railroad, Tuesday. The station, which cost more than $40,000 to construct, is on a tract of land, deeded to the town, for that purpose by Doehler-Jarvis corporation. The company is erecting a plant at the site of the station which eventually will serve more than 3000 persons when it begins full-time operations. The company could not locate there unless the modern pumping station was built. The ground is on a low level, making it necessary to pump the sewage to the higher level at meadow road. Ex-Pottstonian Held on Charge Of Bad Checks

Two borough justices of the peace yesterday ordered a former Pottstown man to be held in the borough lock-up in default of $500 bail after two separate hearings on charges of passing worthless checks. William A. Dudley, 33, Washington, D. C., was given hearings before Justices of the Peace Raymond C. Kelley, of the Second ward, and Richard H. Cadmus, of the Seventh ward, for the alleged offenses committed July, 1951. He was accused of giving worthless checks totaling $55 to Levitz Furniture company, 212 High street; Horosky Brothers service station, Kenilworth, and the Red Arrow Oil company, 128 High street. At the hearing before Kelley, Dudley testified that he knew he would be arrested on the charges before he came back to Pottstown and that he had intentions of making restitution. KELLEY ASKED the defendant whether he had any money to reimburse the persons who had accepted the checks and Dudley replied, "If I can call my father in West Virginia I can get the money from him." Kelley asked the defendant, "If (Continued on Page Twenty-seven)

Girl, 5, Is 'Fair' After Collision

Thelma Bissell, 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Bissell, 2 Pine court, was reported "satisfactory condition" last night by authorities at the Children's hospital in Philadelphia where she was taken following an automobile accident Tuesday afternoon. The little girl was rushed to the Philadelphia hospital when X-rays Memorial hospital showed a piece of metal imbedded in her leg as a result of the mishap. Operation was performed for removal of the object late yesterday night. An accident occurred when the girl's mother, Mrs. Eleanor Bissell, driver of a station wagon with the girl was riding, became involved in an intersection collision with Bailey streets. Tuesday noon.

Borough Business, Industrial Prosperity Reflected in Increasing Postal Receipts

One of the most reliable indicators of business and industrial prosperity — postal receipts — show that Pottstown is booming this year. This was reported yesterday by Postmaster J. Alfred Marquet, who said that totals for the first three quarters of this year are running ahead of the same figures for the past year. "And that was a banner year, of course, and the best we ever had," Marquet asserted. He noted, "The postal receipts in any community are considered as important bellwether. . . I know we're way ahead in postal receipts in communities with comparable populations. In many towns, you'll find that the receipts actually have gone down." SO FAR this year, the receipts

10 Local Doctors Notified by Army

Ten Pottstown doctors and dentists are scheduled to report to Philadelphia at 11 a. m., Wednesday, Oct. 29, for pre-induction physical examinations. This announcement came yesterday from R. Ross Longaker, clerk of Local Board 110, Selective Service. Doctors and dentists slated to take physicals are Dr. Abraham Bernstein, 353 King street; Dr. Charles A. Baylor, Sanatoga; Dr. Maurice Wolf, 41 Walnut street; Dr. Samuel R. Ash, 73 North Franklin street; Dr. Harry E. Green, 1214 Queen street. Also, Dr. Daniel Lee, 719 Walnut street; Dr. Herbert Seto, 1238 High street; Dr. Morton M. Graetz, 62 North Hanover street; Dr. Charles S. Leventhal, 368 High street, and Dr. Theodore Bonstedt. Dr. Bonstedt is now living in Allentown, Ill., but formerly was affiliated with Pottstown hospital.

Pottstown Teachers Play Host at Leaders' Meeting

Members of the Pottstown branch of the Pennsylvania State Educational association played host to a dinner in the school's cafeteria yesterday at a luncheon followed the earlier meeting "Leaders Conference" at the Junior High school. Miriam V. Ludwig, teacher at Pottstown Senior High school and got underway at 8 p. m. was chairman of the conference. She reported the purpose of the meeting workshop in Chambersburg. The association in planning programs for the future. The first session, beginning at 1:45 p. m., was taken up with discussing the goals that the National Education association expects to attain by 1957.

Home-Owners Soon Will Feel Coal Price Rise

Pottstown area residents will feel the brunt of a new retail coal price increase the next time they order fuel. At a meeting of the Pennsylvania Retail Coal Merchants association yesterday afternoon in Philadelphia, it was decided by the board of directors to boost coal prices to the ultimate consumer with the Office of Price Stabilization's recent authorization. The OPS announced the past Monday it had raised the ceiling of anthracite coal 35 cents, soft coal 25 cents and lignite, coke briquette, packaged fuel and sea coal 30 cents. The meeting was held in Philadelphia yesterday to determine whether the retail coal business in Pennsylvania would take advantage of the new ceilings. GRANVILLE E. CLOUSE, West High street coal dealer who attended yesterday's meeting in Philadelphia, said, "This is the first increase in the retail coal price the OPS has granted in over three years. . . Altogether, the boost this month is what the OPS has authorized plus 20 cents more," he said. He explained that the retail coal dealers had dropped the price of coal $1 a ton the past Spring and that according to OPS regulations they were allowed to make up that drop. Senator Case Calls Stevenson Aide Red, Says He Has Long Left-Wing Associations

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 (AP) — Sen. Francis Case said today that Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr., one of Adlai Stevenson's chief aides, has "had a long record of association with left-wing causes."

Schlesinger retorted that he for Democratic Rights, an organization which the committee said was named by the South Dakota Republican, that he always travels and sympathizers of the has been an outspoken anti-Communist, and that the accusation shows Republican "desperation."

Criticizing what he called "the long-time stand" of the 35-year-old Schlesinger, Case said in a statement through the Republican National committee:

"One would be naive indeed to think that he has changed his attitudes or will change them as director of research for Candidate Stevenson or later, adviser, if Stevenson were elected."

"THOSE WHO do not want Schlesinger as a presidential advisor in the White House had better not vote for Stevenson."

Schlesinger, a Pulitzer prize winner in history, has been a professor at Harvard university. His father, also a Pulitzer prize winner, is likewise a Harvard professor. Both teach history.

In the statement put out by the GOP committee today, Case said of the younger Schlesinger:

"Back in 1941, the House committee on un-American activities, in an official report, devoted some space to Mr. Schlesinger. He was, the report stated, a member of the National Citizens Political Action committee, 83 percent of whose members had records of affiliation with Communist or Communist front organizations."

Committee aides said today that what Case apparently was referring to was a report labeled "appendix 9," dealing with a study of the NCPAC in a search for attempts by Communists in the labor movement to gain control of the Democratic Party in the 1944 elections.

THE AIDES said the report never was made public nor put to the full committee for a vote. They said "appendix 9" listed 141 members of the NCPAC, of whom one was "Arthur M. Schlesinger, professor of history at Harvard university."

Neither the committee nor the attorney general ever listed NCPAC as subversive.

The Case statement said, too: "The report stated that Mr. Schlesinger signed the call for a National Emergency conference."

RELOCATION OK'ED

HARRISBURG, Oct. 1 (AP) — The Public Utility commission today authorized the relocation of a Pennsylvania railroad crossing as part of a State Highways department improvement on state Route 56 in Huntingdon county.

"He was affiliated with the National Emergency Conference for Democratic Rights, an organization which the committee said was named by the South Dakota Republican, that he always travels and sympathizers of the has been an outspoken anti-Communist, and that the accusation shows Republican "desperation."

IN A STATEMENT released through Stevenson Campaign headquarters in Springfield, Ill., Schlesinger said today:

"I was never a member of any of these organizations, nor was I ever in any way associated with them or their activities. I have always been an outspoken anti-Communist—A fact attested by the years of attack upon me in the Communist press. Senator Case's false statements are typical of the phase of desperation into which the Republican campaign evidently is moving."

Because the drivers of early-day Conestoga wagons smoked long, thin cigars, it is believed the abbreviated name of the wagons, "stogie," became the name of the cigars.

Pottstown Portraits

A Quick Look at Your Neighbor

By LARRY DAVIS

ROBERT H. (BOB) BREIDENBACH is a production worker at the Spicer Manufacturing division of the Dana corporation. He might be tagged a typical Pottstown working man.

Born in Pottstown, educated here, he still is working at his first real job. He married a local girl. That's typical!

Descended from Pennsylvania Dutch stock (but not knowing a syllable of the language) Bob was born March 11, 1921, the son of Evans and Lulu (Gumpert) Breidenbach, now retired and living at Penn Village. His father was a pipe threader formerly employed by the Pottstown Pipe works.

There are two brothers and a sister: Evans, near Bally; Douglas (the "mad fireman") now on duty with the U.S. Army in Germany; and Mrs. Stephen Mizic, on Warren street.

Bob attended the Washington elementary school, but didn't particularly care for it. After two years at Junior High school, he quit in favor of facing the world on his own. Odd jobs, including a period of several months at the Century Beverly company as a window, didn't seem to pay off. In 1938, with three years of hopping around behind him, he joined the Civilian Conservation corps and was assigned to a camp at Hot Springs, N. M.

There as one member of a four-man team in charge of the camp kitchen, Bob had the opportunity for brief travel into Texas and Mexico. And at the same time, he went back to his books and picked up a high school diploma from the New Mexico Department of Education.

He enjoyed his work as a CCC cook.

"We made up everything from a 30-day menu provided us in advance," he recalls. "The food was the best, particularly the meat which was cheap. The camp itself was located on a ranch of the Armour Meat packing company, although the crew of 300 men was concerned with building dams in the surrounding area to impound rain-water for irrigation. It was wonderful country, and I wouldn't mind going back."

Bob left the CCC in 1940, returned to Pottstown and took his first job. He became a machine operator for Spicer's on the second shift. Later he went to a drill press, and now he is a press operator making bearing races, on the first shift.

He has been sick only once, to speak of, in his whole life. That happened in the Armed service.

In 1944, he entered the Marine corps, training at Parris Island, S. C., and taking advanced training at Camp Lejeune, N. C., as "trigger guy" for a two-man automatic rifle team.

As a member of the 6th Marine division, he served at Guadalcanal, Guam, Kwajalein, Pearl Harbor, and was in the first wave of troops invading Okinawa. A siege of malaria hospitalized him home.

Bob was married on Dec. 28, 1940, to the former Veronica Core, and is the father of two daughters, Judith, 10, and Joan, 8.

He is partial to dark suits, sport clothes and bow ties. At 205 pounds, he likes steak, roast beef and groundhog.

Bob is a member of the VFW, the junior vice commander of the local American Legion, carries a card for Local 644, and belongs to the Empire Hook and Ladder company. He lives at 74 South Keim street.

GROUND beef in the residence of Robert C. Weller, 16 Farmington court, just doesn't stand a chance when the man of the house is home. For, with no encouragement whatsoever, Weller will pitch into it with his elbows and fashion a distinctive meat loaf.

With the imagination of the alchemists of old who sought gold from base metals, Weller has spent most of his years of married life busily turning out one meat loaf after another without regard for his wife's tastes.

His culinary masterpieces have been garnished with egg whites, egg yolks, olives, pickles, and everything to be found in the spice box, including nutmeg. When not occupied by this rare manifestation of creative artistry, he will whip up a batch of private formula spaghetti (which gets four bells) or grease himself thoroughly in a chicken salad (because Mrs. Weller doesn't like to strip the chicken bones of their meat). Otherwise, he can't boil water.

Weller, who was 28 on Sept. 29, is employed full time at the local post office and works part time as a driver for the Hanley Cab company. He prides himself for having a workable knowledge of Pottstown's highways and by-ways as anyone might be expected to have.

Weller was born at Limekiln, Berks county, in 1923, the youngest of three children. His father is an electrical appliance salesman; his mother died a year ago.

He attended a one-room school in Exeter township and was graduated from Mt. Penn High school in 1941 where he took the commercial course. In high school he assisted in an appliance store and took the job for seven months after his graduation. For a year he worked for a fabric manufacturer in West Reading before getting the nod from Uncle Sam to put on a uniform.

That was in February, 1943; and for the next 13 weeks he trained at Camp Blanding, Fla., with a quartermaster truck regiment.

Thoroughly and expensively schooled in trucks, he was transferred to the Camp Blanding station hospital where somebody "slapped a bandage in my hand and, lo! I was a medic."

He stayed a medic, too, riding hospital trains across the country from Stark General hospital at Charlestown, S. C. In June 1945, enroute to California where he always wanted to visit, he was stricken with pleurisy and ushered into a bed himself.

For practical purposes, that ended his military career, although he wasn't separated until the following March.

Meantime, he met (through family introductions) Miss Jean Fox, courted her for a year, and said his "I do's" on April 29, 1944. There are two children, Daniel, 5½, and Ruth, 2.

Settling in Pottstown after the war, Weller got an appointment as substitute mail carrier at the local post office. In 1949, he was appointed a regular and assigned badge No. 15.

"But the number doesn't bother me," he admits. "In fact, the only trouble I ever had was as a substitute. A dog bit me on the leg, and I don't love him any for doing it."

Weller reports to the post office at 6:30 a.m. He spends two hours making up his route ("casing the mail" in post office jargon) and is ready to start out by 9 a.m. at the latest. He is one of two mounted carriers. For the past 27 months he has been delivering in Kenilworth, Hilldale, Firestone drive, Hill Crest and part of the North End.

One day a week he drives a cab. He knows the borough inside out, particularly along his mail route.

"If a house has a number," he says, "I'll find it."

Weller likes bowling, hunting and fishing. But in the latter category, he's now strictly a fresh water man. About a year ago, as a member of a deep ocean fishing party, he spent four hours on a glassy sea, sick from the moment he left the dock till the second he returned. Now, the sight of a porgie on ice upsets him.

He is president of the 22-member Pottstown branch of the National Association of Letter Carriers (AFL), senior vice commander of the Pottstown Legion, and a member of the North End Fire company. He stands five feet, seven and one-half inches, weighs 180 pounds, has gray eyes and brown hair in a crew cut.

Rotary Club to Hear Congressman Talk At Tonight's Session

Ladies night will be observed when members of the Pottstown Rotary club and their wives meet for a banquet at the Elks home at 6:30 o'clock tonight.

Principal speaker will be Rep. Albert M. Cole. (R. Kan.), a member of Congress since 1944 and a member of the banking and currency committee in the House. His subject will be "Where our dollars go."

Representative Cole is a graduate of the University of Chicago, Chicago, Ill., where he received the degree of Bachelor of Law. While in college he was a member of Kappa Sigma, social fraternity, and Phi Alpha Delta, a legal fraternity.

He served as county attorney for Jackson county, Kan., city attorney for his home town, Bolton, Kan., president of the Bolton school board, member of the Kansas Senate, and member of the Kansas Legislative council before producing more per acre than any taking his seat in the Congress.

Other farm land.

ALBERT M. COLE

President Walter F. Heise will preside at the meeting.

During the banquet dinner music will be provided by the Raymond Elliot ensemble of violin, cello and harp.

British claims that her farms produce more per acre than any other farm land.

Chamber Plans Week For Fire Prevention

Final plans on observance of 207 High street, was damaged by a hit-run driver, he reported yesterday at a luncheon meeting of the Chamber of Commerce by members of a Chamber of Commerce committee.

Scheduled nationally from Oct. 4 to 11, tentative plans in Pottstown will be delivered by school children to all homes in the borough.

Ralph H. Spare Jr., secretary of the organization, also announced that firefighting equipment will be displayed on High street, between received six respirators today for Hanover and Charlotte, on Tuesday night through the Pottstown office of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Parked Auto Damaged On S. Charlotte Street

The parked car of Joseph Kozich, 207 High street, was damaged by a hit-run driver, he reported yesterday at a luncheon meeting of the Chamber of Commerce by members of a Chamber of Commerce committee.

Scheduled nationally from Oct. 4 to 11, tentative plans in Pottstown will be delivered by school children to all homes in the borough.

Ralph H. Spare Jr., secretary of the organization, also announced that firefighting equipment will be displayed on High street, between received six respirators today for Hanover and Charlotte, on Tuesday night through the Pottstown office of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Drivers Shift Blame In Motor Collision

Two Pottstown men, neither one injured, blamed each other for an automobile accident at Hanover town and South streets, yesterday afternoon.

Joseph Kulp, Star Route, said he was travelling west on South street when he stopped for a "stop" sign at Hanover. "When I pulled out he hit me," Kulp said.

Richard Shenk, 1211 Cherry street, driver of the other vehicle, asserted his car was hit as he tried to make a left turn onto South street from Hanover.

Damages to both automobiles were slight.

Pottstown Civic Leader Leaves Wife $92,000

NORRISTOWN, Oct. 1 — The estate of John R. Klink, Pottstown civic leader and business man who died Nov. 27, 1950, had a balance of $90,554 in principal and of $2331.67 in income for distribution it was shown by an adjudication by Judge J. Burnett Holland, Orphans' Court.

The estate is placed in a life trust for Edith Klink, wife, who also receives the accrued income balance.

New secret of youth for cars of every age!

No other motor oil in the world—at any price—can match Gulfpride H.D. on all these points:

- For keeping engines clean (ideal in both new and old cars)
- As a safeguard against corrosion and rust—during and between trips
- For preventing plugging of piston rings and clogging of oil screens (common causes of excessive oil consumption and "oil starvation" of vital parts)
- To keep hydraulic valve lifters from sticking
- ... And we firmly believe Gulfpride H.D. is backed by the most exhaustive research program in oil history—including its development in 14 million miles of test driving

Pottstown's Prides

Another in the series of beautiful homes that make Pottstown warm

—Mercury Staff Photo

How to make fullest use out of a relatively narrow building lot is illustrated by this home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Drumbheller at 219 North Washington street. It was built five years ago by John Brothers contracting firm. The original owner, Paul Cimbalista, now of 411 South street, did some of the work himself. The problem of providing sufficient bedroom area as well as an office-and-den was solved by building a dormer over the garage for the office-and-den. Downstairs are a living room, dining room, kitchen and a small sun porch on the garage side that can be used as a breakfast room. Upstairs in the main section are two bedrooms and a bath. The brick is the multi-colored type that is proving increasingly popular in Pottstown. Drumbheller is associated with Drumbheller's Food market. That's Mrs. Drumbheller on the front step.

Veteran of 17 Years With Guard, Army, Joins Reserve Unit

The Pottstown Army infantry reserve unit has added a man with 17 years duty in the National Guard and the Army to its ranks. It has been announced by Lt. Harold C. Bauman, commanding officer of Company A, 11th Infantry Combat team.

Dallas A. Wilson, 618 Chestnut street, an inspector at Spicer Manufacturing division of the Dana corporation, signed with the unit for three years as a master sergeant.

He was a member of the National Guard from December, 1928, until September, 1930. In July, 1943, he enlisted in the Army and saw action at Guam and Okinawa.

After the war he re-enlisted in the National Guard until January, 1951.

Wilson signed with the unit at its regular meeting Tuesday.

AT THE MEETING, drills, ceremonies and inspection were under the direction of Sgt. Joseph J. Brandel.

Classes of instructions were led by Sgt. Robert Gible, attack tactics; Sfc. Walter T. Leftel, mechanical rifle training; and Sgt. Melvin Miller, 60 millimeter mortar attack.

It might cost as much as $500,000 a mile to reproduce an ancient Roman road, if were hand built as the Romans built it.

Red POWs Stage 'Independence Day' Camp Demonstration

CHEJU ISLAND, Korea, Thursday, Oct. 2.—Five hundred Red Chinese prisoners unleashed their first big riot on their 'Independence Day' Wednesday and one third of them were cut down in a melee with U.S. guards.

Forty-five Red prisoners were killed and seven died in hospitals of injuries the U.S. Prisoner of War command said. Another 113 were hurt. It was the second deadliest riot in the long bloody history of Communist prisoner violence in Korea.

Two of the 30 U.S. soldiers who rushed into the rioting compound were wounded slightly as they met the rock-throwing, club-wielding Chinese with rifle fire and bayonets.

The prisoners hurled stones from behind the walls of a barracks they were building and met the soldiers in the open with clubs, barbed wire snails and iron poles—the standard weapons the Red prisoners used before.

A BOARD of Army officers flew to Cheju island to begin an investigation.

It was the first time any of the 6000 Chinese Communist die-hard prisoners had started any serious trouble. All the other violence here and on Koro Island 125 miles to the northeast was staged by Korean Reds.

Even so, it was topped in bloodshed only by a February riot on Koro in which 81 Korean Communist prisoners were killed.

Most of the slain and wounded Reds were victims of gunfire, a prisoner of war command spokesman said. He said no concussion grenades or tear gas were used.

Rent Controls Maintained by Larger Cities

HARRISBURG, Oct. 1.—Local extensions and special federal or der combined to keep rent controls in effect throughout most of Pennsylvania today following last mid night's deadline set by congress.

City councils in many of the keystone state's large cities including Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Norristown, Pottstown, Scranton and Wilkes-Barre voted to extend the controls. At least 40 small communities and seven Western Pennsylvania counties lifted all ceilings.

Action of the Federal Defense Area Advisory committee in certifying the lower Bucks, Lehigh, Northumberland and Dauphin Cumberland counties areas as critical kept controls in force in Harrisburg and Allentown.

Under the Federal Rent Control act ceilings expired at midnight Sept. 30 in all communities except those which voted to retain them or those designated critical housing areas. At present controls in these areas will remain in effect until April 30, 1953, when the current rent law expires.

Both Allentown and Harrisburg city councils had ruled against keeping rent controls before the areas were designated critical.

Lodges Given Warning Of Gambler's Schemes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—The Internal Revenue bureau warned lodges and fraternal societies to day against falling for a new gamblers' scheme to use non-profit organizations as a front to beat the Federal wagering tax.

Tax officials disclosed at a news conference that they have come upon at least a dozen cases of the sort, mostly in Indiana.

They said that the societies involved could lose their tax exempt status and be subject to tax assessments for the wagers handled.

AIR HEAD TO TOUR BASES

LONDON, Oct. 1.—Air Chief Marshal Sir William Dickson who occupies chief of staff of the British Royal Air Force next January will leave London Oct. 9 on a flying two-month tour of RAF bases and countries allied to Britain.

Chicago 'Grounded' By Elevator Strike

CHICAGO, Oct. 1 (AP)—The first elevator operators strike in Chicago's history put nearly a half million office workers 'on-the-hoof' today.

Thousands of resolute employees and executives—some carrying lunches or candy bars—fudged up stairways to offices high in the city's skyscrapers.

VA Will Drop 2250 From Hospital Rolls

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—The Veterans Administration announced today that 2250 employees in its hospitals will be discharged effective Nov. 4.

The VA said the reductions in 92 hospitals and two domiciliary facilities are 'a step designed to help bring the agency within funds appropriated by Congress for operation of its department of medicine and surgery in the year which started July 1.

Those to be discharged are in the administrative, special services, custodial and maintenance ranks. A VA official told reporters.

Included in the special services setup are library, recreation and similar employee and chaplains.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT of the cut said doctors, nurses, dentists and dietitians are exempted from it but some may be exempted transfers from one VA hospital to another to maintain a balanced staffing pattern.

The VA reported it had 178,000 employees on Aug. 31 of whom 136,377 were engaged in medical programs including operation of 155 hospitals and 108 clinics.

Officials said the breakdown on how many employees would be discharged at each of the stations is not yet available.

McGrath Won't Answer Probers

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—A congressional committee said today that Howard McGrath appeared to have tried to thwart its investigation of the Justice department when he was attorney general.

In a report the House judiciary subcommittee also said McGrath exhibited 'a deplorable lack of knowledge of the department he was supposed to administer.'

'His testimony and his record as attorney general indicate that he was content to let the status quo remain without knowing what the status quo was,' the investigators reported.

McGrath, former governor of Rhode Island and once a Democratic senator from that state was attorney general from August 1949, until the past Spring. President Truman fired him April 3.

Informed of the subcommittee's latest blast, McGrath told a reporter he had no intention of 'engaging in a cross fire of discussion on each of the committee's interim reports.'

RECORD BREAKER DEPARTS

HONOLULU, Oct. 1.—A Boeing B-47 Stratojet bomber left Hickam Air Force base today for an undisclosed destination after setting month ago the former secretary's California Hawaii speed record of four hours 52 minutes Saturday.

Japanese Reds Get Sharp Setback in First Diet Election

TOKYO, Thursday, Oct. 2.—Japan's voters stamped enthusiastic approval on the pro U.S. policies of Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida Wednesday while handing a cold rebuke to the Communists. Yoshida's Liberal Party rolled far out in front in the first ballot for the 466 seats of the lower house of the Diet since Japan regained its independence the past April.

A record total of 35,000,000 Japanese voted yesterday, more than 76 percent of those eligible. With nearly half the contests decided, the Communists had failed to win a single seat, although they captured 75 in the last election. The Japanese were turning on them for their vicious anti-U.S. riots on May Day.

Unofficial returns gave the Liberals 193 of the 466 seats decided. The Progressives (conservative) trailed far behind with 45, the left wing Socialists with 17 and the right wing Socialists with 17. The rest were scattered among minor parties and independents.

Yoshida also was running well ahead in his intra party feud with Ichiro Hata, who once wrote a book praising Hitler and Mussolini and was purged from public life under the occupation. Hata was not anti-American but he differs with Yoshida on financial policy.

Moses Asks WSB To OK Pay Increase

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Harry Moses, president of the Bituminous Coal Operators' association, today asked the Wage Stabilization board to approve the pay contract his northern operators have signed with John L. Lewis.

The agreement provides a $1.90 a day increase for the United Mine Workers who now have a basic minimum daily wage of $16.35. The agreement also commits the producers to increase from 30 to 40 cents a ton their contribution to the union's welfare and retirement fund.

The wage board, headed by Archibald Cox, can take one of three courses. Approve the increase, which provides a higher raise than that allowed by cost-of-living wage regulations, reduce it, or reject it. If either of the latter two courses is followed by the board, Lewis is considered certain to take his men out of the mines on strike.

Southern soft coal producers most of whom agreed to similar one-year contract terms with Lewis yesterday have not yet filed their petition for approval of the new contract. Moses made his agreement with Lewis on Sept. 20.

Acheson Says Peace Delegates Will Be Probed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Secretary of State Acheson said today the State department is investigating some 15 Americans attending the Communist sponsored Asian 'peace' conference at Peking which he termed an 'obvious propaganda operation.'

Any who may have obtained passports by fraud or misused these documents is subject he noted to stiff fines and prison terms.

The conference opening tomorrow is expected to make the United States a target of propaganda attacks. Acheson told his news conference that it would deceive nobody. He said that Red China while serving as host to the 'peace' conference is defying the United Nations, waging war in Korea, and has joined Soviet Russia in a hate campaign against Americans.

Since the past May 1, all passports authorizing travel abroad have been stamped 'not valid for travel in China.' State department records indicate that several of the 15 or so American delegates thus far identified stated in asking passports that they planned only tourist travel in Western Europe or Japan. Statutes carry penalties of up to $2000 in fines and five years in prison for persons making false statements on applications for misusing passports.

Acheson refrained from any specific threat of prosecution. Several Americans turned up at a similar Communist conference at Moscow early this year and thus far have not been prosecuted.

Acheson said that the United States is exchanging views with other delegations in preparation for the United Nations General Assembly session opening Oct. 14 but he declared that thus far nothing has firmed up for dealing with the Korean situation.

Truman Sees Nation Better Off Than Ever

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 1.—President Truman said tonight that in spite of 'stale Republican lies' about high prices and taxes the American people are better off than ever before.

And he said the nation will risk losing its 'hard-won system of prosperity and security' if it puts Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Republicans who 'can't think beyond their own pocketbooks' in power at next month's election.

'I am sorry to see that abject surrender of their Presidential candidate to the reactionary, undictive wing of the Old Guard,' Truman said.

OFFICERS ELECTED

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 1.—Mrs. G. Lawrence Himmelman of West View was re-elected president and Mrs. Peter Brath, Greenville, vice president at the Women's Mission society of the Pittsburgh Synod United Lutheran church opened its two day annual convention today at Emanuel Lutheran church in suburban Bellevue.

Truman Speaks at Ground-Breaking

GOP 'Political Soap Suds' Campaign For Radio, TV Bared by Stevenson Aide

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 1.—The Republicans in potential electoral strength by 180. If they take New York they have an excellent chance to get the necessary 267 votes to clinch the election.

George Ball, national executive director of the Volunteers for Stevenson, said today the Republicans are planning a two million dollar 'political soap suds' campaign on television and radio to elect Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

And Ball said the campaign will be based on a document, 'prepared for the Republican high command' stating that Eisenhower can count on only 30 'sure' electoral votes. That is 238 short of the 266 needed to win in November.

The document Ball made public also states: 'According to the best current data available, the Democrats lead...

Tombsong Tangos Are Out, Judge Tells Dancers

OTAI, Calif., Oct. 1.—The Cemetery Draz had brief popularity but it gave way today to the Superior court lockdown.

Judge Walter I. Fourt told 23 teenagers and 15 parents that dancing in the moonlight in the cemetery must cease.

The youngsters, rounded up by police, said they went in for Tombsong Tangos and some beer drinking just as a lark.

The judge said he'd help improve recreation facilities in town, but a repetition of this incident is strictly out.

Pottstown Residents Will Donate To, Aid Bloodmobile Today

A host of Pottstown area women volunteers will be aiding the Red Cross this afternoon when that organization's bloodmobile makes its headquarters at the YWCA from 1 to 6:30 o'clock to permit area residents to contribute blood for use by the armed forces.

Nurses who will be under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Teits-worth during the bloodmobile's visit will be Mrs. Laurence Sei-bard, Mrs. C. B. Welch, Mrs. Edith Borneman, Mrs. Forrest Rogers, Mrs. William Mignone, Mrs. Freder-ic Cullen and Mrs. Ethel McConnell.

Nurses aides, who with Gray Wilke, Mrs. Robert Cahill and Mrs. E. S. Friedberg are the Staff Aides who will keep the records of the donors.

Canteen workers, those whose job it will be to prepare and serve refreshment to the donors and lunch to the bloodmobile staff, are Mrs. Raymond Kerper, chairman; Mrs. Marie Well, Mrs. Leibo Bel-ten, Mrs. John Schneek, Mrs. Wil-liam Boden Sr., Mrs. Ruth Bern-hardt, Mrs. Richard Leh, Mrs. Hilda Weist and Mrs. Elsa Lav-ertu.

A representative of the North-ern branch, Southeastern Penn-sylvania chapter of the Red Cross, stated last night that 50 donors still are needed to meet Potts-town's quota of 150 pints of blood.

THOSE WISHING to register to donate may do so by telephoning 3055.

The representative also an-nounced in reply to a query that the Red Cross' policy is not to accept as donors those who are receiving injections for asthma, hayfever and colds.

After the morning session in which the state chairman of edu-cation, program and welfare ex-pressed their willingness to give any help or suggestions which any of the member clubs might desire, a reception was held in honor of the Pennsylvania federation of Women's clubs.

The afternoon session which began after a break for luncheon fea-tured an address on Pennsylvania week given by Mrs. William H. Biester Jr., vice-chairman of wo-men and an address by Mrs. Vin-cent in which she enlarged upon the theme of the federation, "Learning, Living, Working To-gether". She went on to make sug-gestions for its practical applica-tion.

OF THE 348 women present, the delegation from the Century club, 17 strong, was composed of Mrs. Frank S. Anderson, Mrs. John A. Barlow, president of the club; Mrs. W. Bryan Chambers, Mrs. John B. Evans, Mrs. Leonard Huff, Mrs. Francis Hunsberger, Mrs. George Lambrecht and Mrs. Hugh McDevitt.

Also Mrs. Maurice Mosheim, Mrs. Walter Neiman, Mrs. Maude

ments served, and the meeting closed by singing of the Smile song and repeating of the pledge.

Guests at the meeting were Becky Wagner, Carol Wagner, Carol Ann Dunlap, Faye Warner, Joyce Hindle, and Mrs. John Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Garth Herd who came to see the flying-up ceremony.

Led by Mrs. Daniel Kerlin, Mrs. Harold Warner and Mrs. Delmar Lasky, Linda Mayer, Janet Moul-der, Judy Robert, Shirley Smith, Doris Bodnar, Gloria Sue Dunlap, Joanne Wagner, Patty Kerr and Penelope Herd, Joyce Ingham, wings and Girl Scout handbooks, Bonnie Jacobs, Patty Lasky, Joan Warner and Judy Weidner.

Golden Wedding Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Ziegler, Boyertown RD 1, celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary on Wednesday, were married in Grace Lutheran church, Royersford, by the late Rev. J. Frederick Kramlich. They plan to entertain friends Oct. 12 at an all day open-house party. The bright-eyed dog between them (above) is Jip, one of the Zieglers' many pets.

Local Club Women Attend Conference Of Southeast District

A Pottstown club, the Century club had the largest delegation from all of Montgomery county at the recent Southeastern District conference of Women's clubs held at the Abraham Lincoln hotel.

During the business session a motion was made and carried that members of the class would sell paired wall plates; an etching of the interior of the church would be on one and an etching of the ex-terior on the other.

Etching artist will be Mrs. Emma Moorehouse Miller, Phila-delphia.

Refreshments were served to the following members present: Mrs. Jerry Cattel, Mrs. Harriet Oil-inger, Mrs. Betty Miller, Mrs. Beatrice Watkins, Mrs. Marion Christman, Mrs. Mildred Miller, Mrs. Betty Romig, Mrs. Evelyn Faltzer, Mrs. Catherine Strickland, Miss Violet Smith, Miss Virginia Rigg and Mrs. Phyllis Good.

Frank B. Ziegler's Plan 50th Anniversary Party

Though Mr. Frank B. Ziegler, Boyertown RD 1, thought of hiring a band to serenade his wife on their golden wedding anniversary, Wednesday, Oct. 8, he thought again and decided not to. He was afraid that "she might just faint from the excitement."

Instead they have decided to hold open house Sunday, Oct. 12, from noon to 6 o'clock in the evening to which they have invited all their friends.

They expect guests from the Royertown and Royers-ford areas especially, since both were brought up near Royersford.

Morris Gaugers' Party Honors Gail's Birthday
A birthday party was held for Gail Theresa Gauger, 1-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Ziegler, or Miss Nelly Naomi T. Gauger, 411 Manatawny street.

The room was decorated with balloons and streamers with the birthday cake serving as a center-piece.

From the football game, Mr. Ziegler carried the courtin' ball. Refreshments were served and he used to leave the large farm games were played. Those win-ning prizes were: Robert Gauger, near Schwenksville, where he was brought up driving a little black Gary Brauner, Patty Nester, Mi-horse and rubber-tired buggy to chael Brauner and Gregory Gau-see Mrs. Ziegler. He also had a ger.

Guests attending were: Jeffery, James, and Robert Gauger; Dan-nis, Domin, Brian and Gregory Gauger; Jan and Harold Helfrich; Jane Umstead; Robert and Patty Nester; Tom, Michael and Gary Brauner; John Keifer; and Skippy Chrusch.

Also Mrs. Judy Gauger, Mrs. Mary Gauger, Mrs. Viola Domin, Mrs. Arlene Gauger, Mrs. June Helfrich, Mrs. Jo Rienert, Mrs. Bertha Rienert, Mrs. Dot Nester, Mrs. Evelyn Brauner, Mrs. Marie Chrusch, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Keifer, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Hel-frich, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Moyer, and Miss Anna Helfrich.

Turn your bed mattress fre-quently—about once a week—In even the wear. Turn from side to side one week, and from end to end the next, alternating.

Sheep, cows, geese and chickens are favorites on the Ziegler farm. Mrs. Ziegler often hatches chicks and goslings in her kitchen, and it is not unusual for her to raise a lamb on a bottle.

"I had always wanted a lamb for a pet, and when we moved out here my husband, who keeps me happy, brought me two sheep, Buddy and Dolly. The following Spring, Buddy and Dolly produced lambs which were a picture to see on the green lawn."

The green lawn is kept green and lush by Mr. Ziegler who takes particular pride in his flower and vegetable gardens. He has planted all the shrubbery and many of the trees around the 12 acre place. A strain of zinnia which is both pink and yellow is his delight.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Custer were recently married in St. Peter's Catholic church by the Rev. John Nais. Mrs. Clark Custer is the former Miss Laura Koon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Koon, 128 River road, South Pottstown. From the large wedding the couple left on a wedding trip after which they will live at the home of the bride's parents.

Elkton Rites Unite Mr. Wesley Peck And Miss Sperow

Miss Patricia Sperow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Sperow, 75 New street, became the bride of Mr. Wesley L. Peck Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley L. Peck Sr., Elkton, at the home of the Rev. S. H. Hopkins, Elkton, Md., who performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of blue satin featuring a matching jacket and full net skirt. Her blue shawl-length veil was held in place by a coronet of white rose buds and lilies of the valley. She wore a rhinestone necklace and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

The maid of honor and the bride's only attendant, Miss Elizabeth Peck, sister of the bridegroom, was attired in a salmon-colored gown designed like the bride's. She too wore a coronet of rose buds and carried a bouquet of carnations.

MR. JOSEPH Valentine performed the duties of best man. The mother of the bride wore a white polka-dotted dress with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The mother of the bridegroom chose a steel gray taffeta dress with black accessories. She wore a corsage of white carnations.

Approximately 150 guests from Elkton, Pottstown, Reading, Douglassville, Glenmoore and Coatesville attended a reception which was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Peck Jr. will live in Elkton at the home of Mr. Peck's parents.

book on missions in South America. With Mrs. Irvin Swede and Mrs. F. S. Buehler as hostesses, the next meeting will be held Nov. 4 at 1:30 a clock in the church house. Members present were Mrs. Swede, Mrs. John Harleston, Mrs. George McCormick, Mrs. Edward Conner and Mrs. Buehler.

Hayride, Birthday Party Given for Herbert Geiser First Presbyterian Circle Sews in Moore Home

A combination hayride and birthday party was given for Herbert Geiser by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Geiser, in honor of his seventh birthday anniversary.

The hayride took Herbert and his young guests to the outskirts of Roversford and around the State game farm. After the ride, which lasted over an hour, they returned to the Geiser home on State street where the birthday party was held.

A circus air was given to the table on which the cake decorated with animal crackers was placed. Refreshments were served after the birthday gifts were opened.

Those present were: Dale Martin, Alice Marie and Kathleen Runt, Terry and Linda Nettles, Douglas and Mary Vogt, John Hasselbain, John Ketterolf, Dennis Foley, Gerald Lupold, Margie Seiler, Edward Whalen, David Beaver, Eric Meeker, Joseph Tilger, Barbara, Larry Jeffrey and Karen Geiser, and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Geiser.

Plans will be made for the coming Montgomery county convention of the King's Daughters to be held in Searles Memorial church Wednesday. The Watchful circle will entertain and sessions will be held at 10 o'clock in the morning and 2 o'clock in the afternoon. A luncheon will be served at noon. Mrs. Nelson Henry Rosemont, Pa., will preside at the convention.

Grange at Sanatoga Holds Ceremonies For Harvest Home

The Rev. W. Reed Tenenworth, pastor of St. James Reformed church, Limerick was the guest speaker. The title of his address was "Five Peas."

Music for the service was furnished by Mary Ann and Evelyn Rapp, who sang several duets. Joan Rapp and Mrs. Frank Keim played the piano.

At the business meeting a committee was appointed for the Halloween party Oct. 25. Members are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Keim, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Troutman, Edward H. Scheffey and Samuel Hanna.

A surprise party was held for Frank Keim after the meeting in celebration of his birthday yesterday. A basket of greeting cards was presented to him.

The Home Economics committee will have charge of the program for the next meeting Oct. 15. Mrs. Vernon Rapp is chairman. Last night's program was directed by lecturer Edward H. Scheffey.

Driver Commended For Assisting Woman

A thorough physician last night commended a veteran Good Will ambulance driver for his skill in aiding an ill woman early last night.

The doctor, who requested his name not be disclosed, said that the driver, William Tosto, "certainly used his head" in administering oxygen to Mrs. Mary Hastinar, 62, of Grosstown road, Stowe, when summoned to her home about 7 o'clock.

Mrs. Hastinar, who has been suffering from a blood stream infection, was gasping for breath when Tosto and an aide, Hiram Keim, arrived.

Tosto immediately administered a tank and a half of oxygen to the woman and her breathing soon was improved. He continued the administration enroute to the hospital and in the hospital until attendants there could set up the institution's oxygen equipment.

The physician, familiar with Mrs. Hastinar's condition, claimed the oxygen "was of real value."

In the days before the white man came, Kentucky was known as "The Dark and Bloody Ground" because of the Cherokees for its possession.

Training School Leaders Get Ready

Hilldale Tenants Shocked

th families in the project, especially those with children, will be stranded and helpless if evicted.

"I don't believe the housing in Pottstown is adequate for all the working class of people here," she said. "Half the places advertised won't take children. The people here don't have the money to put down on a place. I've tried to rent and it's too hard to find a place."

The father of two infant boys and a baby girl, said the Government's proposal "puts me in a position where I have no place to go with the rents as high as they are. I have a couple of bills to pay and it's hard for me to pay $65 rent."

IN REFERRING to the P. A. Frasca, a Hilldale resident three years, said he thought that organization to the woman and her breathing soon was improved. He continued the administration enroute to the hospital and in the hospital until attendants there could set up the institution's oxygen equipment.

The physician, familiar with Mrs. Hastinar's condition, claimed the oxygen "was of real value."

In the days before the white man came, Kentucky was known as "The Dark and Bloody Ground" because of the Cherokees for its possession.

Mrs. Willis Reigle, 31 Road C, said "It's a lot of worriments, wondering where we could go next. I can't see why the Government can't let well enough alone. Six or seven women and I talked it over and we're satisfied to stay here."

in age from 2 to 14. Mrs. Reigle said "the only thing is that if they want to get us out they'll have to find us a place to live. We've been looking for three years for a place, but no one would take families with children."

MRS. REIGLE'S concern over not finding another home because she has children was expressed by most of those interviewed. All have children, but most of them pitied the couples who have seven and eight youngsters.

"There are a lot of people with seven and eight kids here," one woman said. Most all of the women queried said they had been discussing the possibility of eviction with their neighbors and "everyone is worried about it," they said.

"My neighbors can't make up their minds what they are going to do," said Mrs. William E. Bealer, 17 Road C. The mother of four children, three of whom live at home, said she had no relatives into whose home her family could move if evicted.

"We've been on the lookout for an apartment, but it's been hard to get a place," she noted, adding that she did not know whether she and her husband, a painter, would sign a petition. The family has lived in Hilldale nine years.

The project was opened as temporary living quarters for hundreds of war workers pouring into Pottstown industries in 1943.

MRS. JAMES P. SMALLS, 34-B Road B, said, "I don't know what to do. I have two children and can't get just any old shack." She said if the home of her parents, Mr. Harry F. Gibbs, 1 Road C, New and Mrs. George Baldwin, at 330 Walnut street, is repaired soon she and her family can move in.

Hilldale Offer Rejected

second-floor units that the State has ruled are unsafe because they have only one fire exit.

THE STATE sent the county authority a warning the past Sept. 22 to start building the second exits within ten days or face prosecution.

The US Public Housing administration, which owns Hilldale, said Tuesday that it will not spend any more money on Hilldale.

The housing authority chairman indicated that the authority could not afford to put in the exits itself.

Menges said that if, as appears likely, the State insists on compliance with its demand, the authority will have no other choice than to close up the 27 units.

The families in these units probably could be given no more notice than the 15-day notice called for in the tenants' lease, Menges asserted.

"If the housing authority has to require people to move out, it is going to be a terrific hardship on some families," Menges declared.

THE AUTHORITY is anxious not to bring any hardship," he continued. But if the States goes ahead with its compliance demand, he said, "There's nothing else the authority can do. We have no funds with which to put them into shape."

If 15-day notices have to be sent, the solicitor said, they will be sent by the authority.

For the present, he said, the authority can do nothing except hope that the State will change its mind.

A, the father of two children, 14 months and 5 years old, said he had been wanting to leave the project for almost two years and eviction would be "one way of getting out."

He said he had intended staying only a few months. He added that many of those with children want to get out.

commended that the 27 second floor units be built.

Menges, the solicitor, said that if families in the 27 units have to leave Hilldale, they undoubtedly would be offered rental of any vacant units in Penn Village.

But at present, he said, there are no vacancies in existing Penn Village units, and the 100 new units being built there will not be finished for months.

(Edmund J. Koser, executive secretary, said the past week that the first of the 100 units should be finished in January, and all of them finished in May.)

There are more than 50 vacancies now in Hilldale, but all are one-bedroom units which would not be suitable for the relatively large families facing removal from the 27 units.

Chairman Perry also pointed out that the authority could not even offer Hilldale residents the long-range hope that more low-cost housing could be built in Pottstown to accommodate them. There now are no Federal funds available for such building, he reported.

Girls at Mt. Holyoke Make Popular Spot Out of Their Kitchen

The most popular spot at Mt. Holyoke college these days is the kitchen. Opened last year in the new gymnasium, Kendall hall, it has already catered to more than 5000 students. Everything, from finger-paints for the use in the college nursery, to steaks and fancy pies and cakes have been cooked on the kitchen range. In addition to getting some practice before setting up housekeeping, the college students agree that entertaining their dates at supper parties in Kendall hall is an effective way to solve the problem of today's high cost of living. Good supper parties, ranging in number of guests from two to 20, and varying in degrees of formality, are popular among the undergraduates. LAST YEAR, an enterprising senior at college, Patricia Reeve of Aquebogue, N. Y., agreed to cook a duck if her date would go out and shoot one. He did. A week later they enjoyed a duck dinner. A less ambitious couple was accustomed to heating soup on the range for a quick Saturday lunch. Others use the kitchen to bake cookies and cakes for their boy-friends in the service. Others make a batch of cookies before going away to men's colleges for the weekend. With something good to eat in their suitcases, the girls are popular dates. The kitchen and adjoining lounge

450 See Fall Modes At Amaranth Show In Die Casters Club

The Die Casters club was the center of attraction for the annual fall fashion show by the Order of the Amaranth. Mrs. C. Roy Bush supplied background music for the models who presented their fashions on a palm and fall flower decorated stage. Outstanding numbers of the show, as narrated by Mrs. Eugene Smith of the Phyllis Anne shop which supplied the evening's modes, were sister dresses in fire engine red. of grey tone on tone organza taffeta, were striking. SUITS OF imported fabrics featured pencil-skirt, cinched bodices and flared peplums. Jewel-trimmed hats, many of them with rhinestone bands or a beaded motif, were very much in evidence as complements for costumes. The cloche was a favored style. Hats were by Ellis Mills department store. An eye-catcher was an aqua cocktail dress of nylon tulle of ballerina length. It had a full skirt and a perky taffeta slip. Aqua and silver sequins sparkled on its filmy surface. CARDS and refreshments were enjoyed by the more than 450 guests. All members of the club, the models included: Miss Virginia Kerper, Mrs. Richard Leh, Mrs. Luther Leh, Mrs. Leonard Huff, Mrs. Harold Buckwalter, Mrs. Charles Eaton, Mrs. Richard Enphemer, Mrs. William Fosnacht, Mrs. John Gilbert, Mrs. Frank Hartenstine, and Mrs. James Miller. Enrolment Dates Set For Evening Classes

Enrolment for adult evening chemistry, English, French and classes will be Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 20 and 21, from 7 to 9 p. m. in Royersford High school auditorium. A total of 147 adults signified an interest in adult education courses scheduled are sewing, oil-painting, typing, Spanish, English returned from the 1475 dish, citizenship and woodworking. Other courses will be offered if typing, accounting, pay roll deduction, 12 or more students register for them.

A registration fee of $5 for each course will be collected at registration. Each class group will have the opportunity to determine the most convenient evening for class meetings.

The project is the result of a survey conducted by school heads in co-operation with Spring-Ford Rotary club and Royersford Woman's club. Survey sheets reached homes in the Spring City-Royersford area through school children, industrial plants, service clubs and business establishments.

Sixty-seven adults from Royersford and Spring City asked for courses in sewing, 45 for typing, 26 for oil painting, 19 for Spanish, and 15 for woodworking.

OTHER COURSES requested but lacking the necessary 12 registrants were: current events, income tax clinic, shorthand, agriculture, tail-

Rally Day Audience to Hear President of Bible Institute

Royersford Trinity Evangelical Congregational church and Sunday school will celebrate Rally day Sunday.

The morning service at 9:30 o'clock will be a combined service of the school and church. The evening service will be at 7:30 o'clock.

Dr. William A. Mierop, president of Philadelphia Bible institute, will speak at both services. Freda Schindler, voice teacher and soloist with the Pottstown band, will sing at the morning service.

Dr. Mierop, native of Paterson, N. J., is a graduate of the Bible Institute of Pennsylvania and Eastern Baptist Theological seminary. He received his doctor of divinity degree from Bob Jones university in 1948.

He was pastor of an Ocean City, N. J., Baptist church, where he directed an extensive radio ministry and led the Ocean City Bible conference. He has taught at the Bible Institute of Pennsylvania, becoming president of the organization in 1944.

In July, 1951, when the Bible Institute of Pennsylvania and Philadelphia School of the Bible merged to form the Philadelphia Bible Institute, he continued as president.

School Jointure Is Definite

There definitely will be a school jointure involving the townships of Berks and Montgomery counties, with Boyertown participating.

This was the decision reached last night when a steering committee representing ten school boards in Berks and Montgomery met in the Boyertown High School library.

Left unsettled, however, was the question of just how many jurisdictions would be willing to co-operate in the consolidation plans.

Of the ten present last night, eight categorically signified approval of the jointure program and promised to appear at a November meeting in Boyertown, when final plans will be drawn up with the assistance of an attorney who has agreed to advise the committee.

REPRESENTATIVES OF TWO boards, Hereford and Douglass in Berks county, expressed approval of the plan, but could not definitely commit themselves to any program of action without first consulting their own governing bodies.

This left five of the 15 boards originally contacted for jointure unaccounted. Although contacted two weeks ago, they failed to appear at last night's meeting or further any communication to explain their absence.

The five groups outstanding are: Rally borough, District township, Pike township, Washington township, and Upper Frederick township.

It was announced by the acting chairman, George B. Swinehart, principal of the Boyertown school district, however, that the five would be asked to participate in the November meeting.

"WE WILL DO everything possible to bring them in," he said, "because it is as much to their benefit as ours."

Last night's meeting was the first for the steering committee which had been delegated authority at a previous open meeting to withdraw.

DEATHS—FUNERALS

MRS. SADIE F. (DOTTERER) FRY, 63, widow of Amos B. Fry, died yesterday at her home, 118 NORTH READING AVENUE, BOYERTOWN.

Dr. Daniel D. Kohler, deputy coroner, issued a certificate of death by suicide. Mrs. Fry had been found hanged at 6:45 p. m. by neighbors.

She was a member of the Ladies' Aid society and the Adult Bible class of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church, Boyertown, and a member of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Sassamansville.

A native of Pottstown, she was the daughter of Annie B. (Fagley) and the late Frank G. Dotterer. Her husband died in May, 1951. Surviving is her mother who resided with her.

Services will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. from a funeral home at 124 West Philadelphia avenue, Boyertown. The Rev. William L. Shaud, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Sassamansville, and the Rev. David F. Longacre, pastor of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church, Boyertown, will officiate.

Interment will be made in Fairview cemetery, Boyertown.

Soft Coal Contract Signed

In Washington, John L. Lewis (right), president of the United Mine Workers, and Harry M. Moses, representing the northern soft coal operators, shakes hands after they signed a one-year contract. The agreement calls for a $1.90-a-day wage boost for workers in northern pits and a 10-cent-per-ton increase in operator payments to the union's welfare fund. The increase is subject to the approval of the U.S. Wage Stabilization Board.

Young Wife Freed In Death of Husband

WEST CHESTER, Oct. 1 (AP)—The 23-year-old mother of four children was acquitted today of killing her husband during an argument in their home the past July.

An all-male jury returned the verdict for Mrs. Mary E. Schreiver just 25 minutes after they were given the case.

Mrs. Schreiver went on trial yesterday in the slaying of her husband, John.

The shooting took place as the climax of an afternoon at the Delaware Park Race track and an evening of drinking in a taproom. Mrs. Schreiver testified her husband had told her he was going to leave her after he accused her of flirting with other men.

The Schreivers live at Corner Ketch, six miles north of Downingtown.

269 Participate In Bible Service

A service of thanksgiving and dedication commemorating completion of the Revised Standard version of the Holy Bible was attended by 269 persons Tuesday night in St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church, Boyertown.

The Rev. Edward L. Schlingman spoke on "The Word of Life in Living Language."

Copies of the Bible were presented to Samuel R. Knouse, president of the Boyertown Board of School Directors; Harold Herheim, president of the Oley Township School district and director of the Allentown Technical institute of Penn State college.

Also, Jacqueline Mathews, representing the Boyertown Junior Women's club, who will place the Bible in the public library at the Community center, 314 West Philadelphia avenue, Boyertown; Ralph Levensgood, president of the Amity Township School district; and Russell Bechtel, representing the Rally Lions club.

Participating were 21 churches, representing the North District of the Berks County Sabbath School association.

Hallinan Takes Fight Into New York City

NEW YORK, Oct. 1 (AP)—Vincenzo Hallinan, California attorney and Progressive party candidate for President, carried his campaign into Queens today.

Hallinan's schedule included appearances at three "shop gate" rallies outside major industrial plants, a speech at a big housing project, and a night rally in Lost Battalion hall in Queens.

Corliss Lamont, running for US Senator under the banner of the American Labor party, the New York arm of the Progressive party, appeared with Hallinan at the plant rallies.

Hallinan, who was nominated from jail while serving a contempt sentence growing out of his defense of West Coast labor leader Harry Bridges, was continuing a campaign strategy he has pursued here for several days.

He has made numerous street-corner speeches in various parts of the city, attracting both major parties and their candidates on such issues as the Korean war and civil rights.

They Took Series Opener

scoreboard, was the payoff in this contest watched by 34,881, a series record for Ebbets Field.

With Preacher Roe and Johnny Rutherford straining in the bullpen while the Yanks applied pressure in the seventh and eighth, the talented rookie stayed off the 6 to 5 favored Yanks.

By snapping Alie Reynolds, the Yankees ace, in the opener, the Dodgers took a giant stride toward their goal of bringing a world championship to Brooklyn after five misses.

Defense, as much as the home runs, told the story of this well-played thriller. The Dodgers, who tied a National League fielding record in the regular season, were all over the place. Furillo's whip arm discouraged Phil Rizzuto from trying to score from third in the fourth. Pafko cut down an over-ambitious Gil McDougald going from first to third in the fifth. Pafko also made a sliding grab of Hank Bauer's drooping fly for the final out in the fifth.

Cox, trusted as the best fielding third baseman in the game, lived up to his notices with two fine plays in the seventh, ranging to his left to start a rally-killing double play on McDougald's smash and backhanding Billy Martin's blazer back of third to throw him out on a fine peg to Gil Hodges.

Despite the dazzling defense, Black was struggling all the way. Snider smashed three home runs some 400 feet into Bedford avenue.

It was a 1-1 tie when Snider stepped up in the sixth. Robinson's second-inning belt on a 3-2 tie was the first Dodger ever to pitch into the lower left field stands had been balanced by McDougald's homer in the third.

McDougald's homer just made it into the hands of a spectator in the first row of lower left field seats. Pafko made a leaping stab but lost out to the fan. Foul-line umpire Dusty Boggess ruled it a legitimate home run.

The break came without warning in the sixth. Reynolds, the 34-year-old Yankee super chief, seemed to have called down after a wild start. Still he was missing the corners with his curve.

Black, who saw only nine pitches—all strikes—during his three brief stays at the plate, was called out to open the sixth. Cox fouled to Yogi Berra. Reese singled to right and took second when Reynolds wild pitched.

In right-center for a pinch-hit ball that goes over the fence.

This was a brilliant job by Black, the fellow who was supposed to be only a "six-inning pitcher." Actually it was his 31st victory in 12 months, counting 15 in the Cuban Winter league and 15 in his first big league season.

THE ONLY OTHER relief man ever to start a series opener was the Phil's Jim Konstanty, who was beaten, 1-0, by the Yanks in 1950.

Strong and fast with good control and an effective curve, the college grad from Morgan State (Baltimore) allowed only six Yank hits. Rizzuto singled and Mickey Mantle hit him in the ninth inning. If we had beat out a hunt, did the Yanks get to in the next three games.

Dressen, who was blasted from the 6-foot-2, 220-pounder walked coast to coast last year when his only two men. He struck out six. Dodgers failed to win the pennant.

McDougald's fly fell into the seats August, was gleeful.

"IT GAVE ME double satisfaction," he said. "They blasted me Coming down the stretch he

"I'm ready to go tomorrow if he wants me."

Dressen grinned his winning smile.

"I hope I don't have to use him grad from Morgan State (Baltimore) allowed only six Yank hits. Rizzuto singled and Mickey Mantle hit him in the ninth inning. If we had beat out a hunt, did the Yanks get to in the next three games."

Reese Suffers Bruised Leg

BROOKLYN, Oct. 1 (AP)—Brooklyn shortstop PeeWee Reese said he suffered a bruised leg when the New York Yankees' Mickey Mantle took him out on an attempted double play in the fourth inning of today's first World Series game.

"He slid past the bag and caught me on the thigh," Reese said. "The leg seemed a bit stiff and I had to walk around underneath the stands between innings to keep from going lame."

Mantle slid into second in the fourth on an infield blow by Yogi Berra and broke up a double play attempt.

Black Gets His Man the Hard Way

WITH THE COUNT 2-1 on him, Snider sent a Reynolds pitch high and far over the scoreboard to break the deadlock.

The Yanks got one run back in the eighth when Gene Woodling, out of the starting lineup because of a groin injury, hit the screen.

Dodgers' pitcher Joe Black rolls on the ground after covering first to get the Yankees' Yogi Berra (8) in the second inning of the opening World Series game at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, Oct. 1. Umpire Art Passarella signals the out. Berra's grounder skidded off Gil Hodges' glove at first but Jackie Robinson backed up the play and threw to Black.

Snider Gets Revenge; Black Ready

BROOKLYN, Oct. 1 (AP)—Duke Snider, struck me out three times. Snider's game-winning home run was a "revenge" wallop and Joe Black, the big Brooklyn rookie right-hander who tamed the mighty Yankees in the first game of the World Series, is ready to go again tomorrow "if needed."

"And I may use him, too, in the late innings if it's a close ball game," said the Dodgers' bouncy manager Charlie Dressen, in the Morgan State college graduate pandemonium of the Yankees' celebrating dressing room.

"Joe has told me he wants to work. If he feels okay tomorrow I may call on him."

Snider, Black, and the smiling, sharp-eyed Dressen shared most of the attention in the sweaty dressing quarters underneath Ebbets Field.

SNIDER, the husky center-fielder whose giant poke in the sixth inning broke open the ball game in Brooklyn's favor, said he hit a sliding fast ball thrown by Yankee pitcher Alie Reynolds.

"I got a big charge out of it," he added. "In the first game of the World Series in 1949 Reynolds struck me out three times."

They Beat Us in Field And With Homers—Stengel

BROOKLYN, Oct. 1 (AP)—"You can't," said Casey Stengel, "guess the ball that goes over the fence."

The grey, gravel-voiced manager of the New York Yankees did not look particularly sad today after losing the first game of the World Series to the Brooklyn Dodgers, but he didn't look happy either.

"I thought our side did all right. They fielded all right. But you can't guess the ball that goes over the fence."

Three home runs did it for the Dodgers, putting the Yankees one down in the opening game just as they were last year against the Giants when they went on to win.

"WELL," said Casey, "it was a nice game. They got more runs than we did. Billy Cox played a nice game. Joe Black pitched a pretty good game."

Some one asked what kind of scouting reports the Yankees had on the Dodgers.

"Scouting?" snorted Casey. "They beat us on the field."

Stengel, the constant juggler of lineups, was asked what he had in mind for tomorrow.

"Don't know whether I'll change or not," he replied. "Woodling looked good. He ran pretty good. If Woodling don't crumple up during the night I must put him in the game."

GENE WOODLING slammed a pinch hit triple in the eighth and scored on Hank Bauer's fly.

"That fellow pitched a very good game," Casey went on, referring to Black. "I wouldn't want to say if he's as good as (Don) Newcombe. He was in trouble almost all the way, but he has pretty good control. You have to as a reliever."

"It just gets down to the fact you can't get away from three home runs."

Sooners Hone Aerial Attack

NORMAN, Okla., Oct. 1 (AP)—Oklahoma, which completed only four of 12 passes against Colorado last week, attempted to sharpen its aerial attack in today's football workout.

Quarterback Eddie Crowder and halfbacks Buddy Leake and Billy Vessels all took turns heaving the oval. A light scrimmage followed.

The Sooners take on Pittsburgh here Saturday.

Hit 148 in Stadium

During his career as an outfielder for the New York Yankees, Joe DiMaggio hit 148 homers at the Yankee Stadium.

DAVE RICKETTS
ALL-STAR CHOICE

With the World Series again stirring the interest of diamond fans, a bit of post-season news is appropriate about Pottstown's version of the Yankees—or the Dodgers; take your pick.

Remember the weekly and semi-weekly overland jaunts the Elks of Manger Bill Barber made to Sunbury during July and August? And remember how they fought and unhill battle in the National Baseball Congress State championship tournament, only to lose out near the finish?

Except for gaining a good knowledge of the 100-mile route to the central Pennsylvania town, it appeared the Elks received nothing for their trouble except the pleasure of competing.

However, it has been announced by W. C. Bender, State commissioner for the NBC, that Dave Ricketts was selected to the tournament All-Star team. This is quite an honor considering that most of the best amateur baseball teams in the State were entered.

Dave, who is best noted for his catching in Pottstown, played first base most of the time in the tournament and was named to the All-Star team at that position.

THE FRACKVILLE VFW team that won the double elimination meet, had seven men name to the 16-player All-Star squad.

Blockers take note!

If you want to gain the recognition you so justly deserve, follow the example being set by Center Jack Babel of the Pottstown High Trojans.

In several of the Mercury Sportsphotos snapped of Trojan games, the ball carrier is the main object of the picture—as usual. Not because Babel is vain, but rather because that he is doing his job has appeared in the near vicinity of the runner who has usually just completed a substantial gain.

Of course there isn't a photographer around on every play, but when a good block is thrown to break the runner clear it is often picked up by the fans and passed around. Great second efforts by blockers don't always gain the recognition they deserve, but a repetition of them will eventually attract attention.

Babel's job, like that of most centers, is to clear out the secondary. There is pictorial evidence that he is out in the photo snapping territory where he belongs.

Bears, Bruins Tie

PERKINS, Oct. 1 (AP)—The Hershey Bears of the American Hockey League rallied in the final period and held the Boston Bruins of the National Hockey League to a 1-1 tie here tonight.

There's no automatic eight-count in the Perkins-Schuykill Big Four, but it's an inside straight guess that Boyertown could well wait until the last game to get off the mat and swing its knock-out punch.

The Bears meet Upper Perkiomen on Thanksgiving morning in the windup game for both clubs in a tilt that might juggle the circuit standing's faster than a California tremor.

Bob Fleming's men missed their shot at defending champ Royersford the past Saturday when the Eagles packed them up, 4-1. The Bears, predominantly a young team with little varsity experience looked more green than basilically untalented while absorbing their trouncing and should get more licks than lickings in for the rest of the route.

That UP tussle a little under two months hence stands as an excellent chance to redeem lost prestige.

You'll remember we tabbed the Bears more or less of a pre-season choice without looking. Well, after a look, it looks as though the 'Fords and Upper Perk will battle it out.

Bears May Be Key to Perk Title

The other Big Four contender, Spring City, is short on size and ability. But — and that's a big guess that Boyertown could well wait until the last game to get off the mat and swing its knock-out punch.

The Bears meet Upper Perkiomen on Thanksgiving morning in the windup game for both clubs in a tilt that might juggle the circuit standing's faster than a California tremor.

Royersford's captain and center, Nick Dinnoconti (above) will be at his regular pivot post this evening as the Eagles meet Bridgeport under the Port arms. Dinnoconti, a sturdy returning veteran, was accorded All-Perk honors last year and looms a pinch to repeat through his sharp blocking and sterling defensive play. He also calls defensive signals for the 'Fords.

'Fords, Porters Meet Under Lights Tonight

In the only match of strength between the Ches-Mont league and the Perkiomen circuit this season, Royersford will play at Bridgeport tonight at 8 o'clock.

The defending Perk champs of Coach Bob McNelly will put a 10-game winning streak on the line against the Ches-Mont entry that has split a pair of early season league encounters.

Royersford, led by hard-running Garry Grater, boasts victories over Sell-Perk, 14-7, and Boyertown, 41-6. After losing its opener to Berwyn, 25-6, the Dragons bounced back the past weekend to even its standing by beating West Chester, 13-6.

The last time the two teams met in 1950, Bridgeport edged the 'Fords, 15-14.

Stopping Grater will be the Porters' toughest chore. The speedy All-Perk halfback has average 15 yards per carry in running up a two-game yardage total of 270.

Carroll Swenson and Charlie Miller are the other Royersford running threats, and Lou Alexander will round out the backfield at quarterback.

Coach Ted Kershner has a strong backfield, but flaws in the line have held down the Dragons' scoring. Joey Pinkovitch is the quarterback. Against West Chester he scored the first TD and passed for the second.

HARD RUNNING by fullback Pat Picciarello accounted for a big portion of the Porters' ground yardage in both games. He scored the touchdown against Berwyn.

The halfbacks will probably be Carl Devinney, Pinkovitch's favorite passing target, and Lou Kirovato.

The battle of the lines could spell the difference.

McNelly will go along with the same starters as he used to hold Sell-Perk and Boyertown to an aggregate of 239 yards rushing and a total of 13 points.

Jake Troutwine and Bob Quinn will open at the ends. At the tackles will be Allen Wolfe and Bill Rogers. Mark Horner and Ted Tyson will again get the call as guards.

All-league Nick Dinnoconti has given yeoman service playing both offense and defensive center.

The top men in the Dragons' defense will probably be tackles, Ron Biscotti, and Bob McTague; guards Jim Roberto and John Capaldo; and center John Mazzerle.

Record Gate Looms in Havana Bout

HAVANA, Oct. 1 (AP)—A record Cuban gate was predicted for the welterweight title fight here Saturday night between champion Kid Gavilan of Cuba and Billy Graham of New York.

"We've already sold $48,000 worth of tickets," said Lorenzo Nodarse, government sports director who is promoting the fight. "And I understand the Jess Willard-Jack Johnson heavyweight championship fight here in 1915 grossed only $45,000. We expect to do about $75,000 or $80,000 and have an attendance of more than 45,000."

Interest in Gavilan's first title defense in his native land has increased daily as the two 147-pounders stepped up their training paces. The 26-year old flash from the sugar fields of Camaguey will be making his fourth title defense.

He beat Graham in a Madison Square Garden 15-rounder, outpointed Bobby Dykes at Miami in February and last July stopped Gil Turner in 11 rounds at Philadelphia.

The Kid is a big favorite to winced excellent shots and one on the outside crack at the crown in the Big group and all four definitely in the Little chase.

Big Ten Title At Stake in Game Saturday

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 1 (AP)—They'll come close to deciding the Big 10 football championship here Saturday when the circuit's two top teams collide in the opening game.

The teams, of course, are Illinois and Wisconsin, rated No. 2 and 8, respectively, in the Associated Press' first weekly poll of the nation's collegiate grid teams. They're the only Western Conference clubs mentioned in the top 10.

In addition to the conference title, which Illinois will be defending, the Rose Bowl bid is up for grabs, the Illini, fifth straight Big 10 winner of the Pasadena New Year's classic last Jan. 1, can't go back under the terms of the agreement with the Pacific Coast Conference. But Wisconsin is eligible, highly eligible, as fervent fans who bought out Camp Randall Stadium's 51,000 seats in the middle of the Summer, are testifying loudly.

A brisk offensive battle seems in the cards, with both teams boasting potent attack scoring pushes on the ground and through the air.

Alan (The Horse) Ameche, the 265-pound fullback who set a new Big 10 rushing record as a Freshman last Fall, is Wisconsin's wheel. On either side of him Coach Ivy Williamson has veteran halfbacks, Harland Carl and Jerry Witt, each capable of the game-breaking long run any time he has the ball.

THE WEAK SPOT in the badger attack a week ago was at quarterback. Today, apparently, it isn't. An inexperienced Junior, named Jim (Bumbles) Haluska, popped up with a performance in the warm-up opener against Marquette last Saturday which broke a school record and cinched the assignment. The youngster hit on 14 of 21 passes for three touchdowns and 237 yards, best in the nation so far, and handled the T-attack like a veteran.

Williamson's defense against the passing of Illinois' Tommy O'Connell and the running of Peter Bachouris, Austin Duke and Bill Tate are the chief worries here now. The "Hard Rocks," Wisconsin's defensive unit which led the nation in yardage yielded last Fall, was riddled by graduation. The current crew was nicked for 272 yards by Marquette and Williamson has promised some shuffling by Saturday.

Record Gate Looms in Havana Bout

HAVANA, Oct. 1 (AP)—A record Cuban gate was predicted for the welterweight title fight here Saturday night between champion Kid Gavilan of Cuba and Billy Graham of New York.

"We've already sold $48,000 worth of tickets," said Lorenzo Nodarse, government sports director who is promoting the fight. "And I understand the Jess Willard-Jack Johnson heavyweight championship fight here in 1915 grossed only $45,000. We expect to do about $75,000 or $80,000 and have an attendance of more than 45,000."

Interest in Gavilan's first title defense in his native land has increased daily as the two 147-pounders stepped up their training paces. The 26-year old flash from the sugar fields of Camaguey will be making his fourth title defense.

He beat Graham in a Madison Square Garden 15-rounder, outpointed Bobby Dykes at Miami in February and last July stopped Gil Turner in 11 rounds at Philadelphia.

The Kid is a big favorite to winced excellent shots and one on the outside crack at the crown in the Big group and all four definitely in the Little chase.

Wisconsin Ranks High in Big Ten

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 1 (AP)—Their hopes for the Big Ten title and the glamor of the Rose Bowl trip shattered in the last game of the season in 1951, a repeat performance from the two previous years, the University of Wisconsin Badgers will be making another try this Fall, although the equipment isn't quite as good as it was a year ago.

Many on this campus bordering on beautiful Lake Mendota figured the 1951 team was "It." It was, too, but the breaks went the other way and the opportunity may have gone with it.

The Badgers of 1951 did compile a fine record, seven wins, one loss and one tie, but they missed the Jack-pot.

It would be just, perhaps, and certainly appropriate if they did it this year for it's been 40 years, yes, 40 years, since the Cardinal and White capped the conference laurels and, that last championship team, the 1912 unit, will be honor guests at the Homecoming game here this Fall.

The optimism that prevailed here the past season hasn't disappeared altogether, but it's more closely guarded.

THERE ARE REASONS, too, for the Badgers are going this year with the key spot, quarterback, lacking in experienced personnel and the defensive line hit hard with eight graduations.

"The quarterback spot is my big concern," says Ivy Williamson, the personable coach of the Badgers. "You just don't lose a boy like John Coatta and get over it right away. We have no letterman available in this spot."

The defense, too, is bothering him although he says that "It's better now than we thought it would be at the start of practice."

Williamson, who highlighted his Summer by a coaching clinic trip to Tokyo (and then flew back in a hurry to call a coaches' meeting before even unpacking his travel bags), points out that the Badgers aren't as deep defensively as last year.

"We have good depth in the backfield," he says, "but overall we lack that depth. Our secondary, also, is not as heavy as it was the past year."

THE WISCONSIN backfield stacks up as a very presentable Big Ten group. Whether the quarterback, who is Burt Hable (Hob-lee) at the moment, will satisfy remains to be seen. If he does, the Badger backfield has a real class.

Hable, a tall youth, is a senior but has had only junior varsity experience. Contesting with him for that spot as first game time nears is Jim Haluska, a soph from Racine.

Haluska, called "Bumbles," does not look like a football player, but he has impressed Williamson at Jim Trimble for the Philadelphia Eagles and Joe Bach for the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Harland Carl, the Greenwood, Wis., junior who drew more rave notices than any footballer in recent years when he first showed day night between champion Kid Gavilan of Cuba and Billy Graham of New York.

Carl has the speed to go with his open field brilliance.

Jerry Witt, 184-pound junior who was given a starting chance last season when the regular right half came up with a bad performance, is the starting right half. He sparked last season by scoring 48 points to lead the Big Ten.

The big, burly line-buster, Alan Ameche, known as "The Horse," gives the Badgers one of the top fullbacks in the loop. Ameche, who is no relation to Don Ameche, the film and radio star, set a new Big Ten rushing record last year as a freshman. He's from Kenosha and weighs 205.

The replacements for Carl and Witt are good, too. There is Tom Cannr, Chicago junior, who could be the team's best runner. He was hit by injuries last year. There is Bill Hutchinson, Chicago senior.

Harland Carl (Halfback), Burt Hable (Quarterback), Alan Ameche (Fullback), Bob Kennedy (Guard), Capt. George O'Brien (Guard), Art Prehlik (Tackle)

Center is in the hands of spots. Roger Dornburg, junior George Simkowski, 189-pound sen from Naperville, Ill., also will see for from Chicago who has played plenty of action as a linebacker, the second fiddle role at the snap. Suminski may go both ways, perback post the last two seasons. Hutchinson, No. 2 offensive half, the defensive lineup at the back, also is being tried on demomment lists Jerry Wuhrman, fense. Burks will be the safety junior from Milwaukee, and Don man. Voss, soph from Milwaukee, at the Kennedy, probably the most out-ends: Dave Suminski, senior from standing football player on the Ashland who has won two major squad, rates as the Badgers' pre-letters, and Carl Martin, 218-pound season best bet for All-American senior from Highland Park, Ill., as consideration.

the tackles: Bob Kennedy, Rhine. The kicking will be done by lander senior who roves as the Wendy Gulseth, Madison junior, center-guard, and Paul Shwaiko, who also rates highly for one of a second semester freshman from the linebacker spots. Captain Kenosha, and Roy Burks, veteran O'Brien also will be used on de-halfback, at the defensive halfback fence.

Pep Decisions Armand Savoie In Comeback

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—Former featherweight champion Willie Pep of Hartford, Conn., unleashing feeble flashes of his old time form, hammered out a unanimous 10-round decision over Canadian Armand Savoie at the Chicago Stadium tonight.

Pep at 129½ sported almost five pounds to the 134-pound Savoie of Montreal, Canada's lightweight and welterweight champion.

It was an important step in Pep's comeback try for the title he lost to Sandy Saddler in 1930 in one of ringdom's vicious fends. Willie now has won six straight bouts since his last loss to Tommy Collins last June 30.

It was Pep's fight all the way, although he suffered a gash over his right eye in the fourth round and at times was buffeted about by his heavier foe.

Referee Bill Doty took the sixth round away from Pep because of a low blow, but Doty still voted in Willie's favor, 55-47, under the Illinois "point" scoring system.

Judge George Kenny saw it for Pep, 54-46, and the other judge, Ed Hintz called it 51-48 for Willie.

PEP, beaten only five times in 176 pro bouts, fought mainly by rote. He lacked his former blistering speed and lightning-like combinations. But he had enough against the smiling Canadian to take it easily.

Pep opened artistically but with little sting in his punches. In the first round he shoved and pushed Savoie to the floor. The Canadian got up smilingly as though it was an accident which it apparently was.

Almost the same thing happened in the second round when Pep used a straight left to push the stumbling Savoie to the floor again. Savoie got up with no count. Savoie started pressing in the ninth to salvage an apparently lost cause. But midway in the round caught a wicked Pep right uppercut. The 10th saw furious rally by Pep.

Black's Rise Is Rags to Riches Story

BROOKLYN, Oct. 1.—From rags to riches in less than a year, that's the story of Joe Black, Brooklyn's super-duper relief ace and World Series star.

Last Spring, anyone predicting that Black would pitch—and win—the opening game of the 1932 World Series would have been rushed to the psycho ward.

Black, a six-foot two-inch, 220 pound righthander, was taken South by the Dodgers on a "look see" basis. The tall righthander had won only 11 games and lost 12 while playing for Brooklyn farms at Montreal and St. Paul in 1931. He spent the Winter sitting in the Cuban Winter League under Billy Herman, a Brooklyn coach.

Herman urged the Dodger brass to look Black over at the Bronx camp site at Vero Beach, Fla. Black made the grade and was hailed by some as another "Don Newcombe."

Just before the bell rang the Dodgers "purchased" Black's contract from Montreal.

MANAGER Charles Dressen didn't use the 28-year-old rookie much at first. But as other starters and relief pitchers faltered, Black saw more and more action. The big righthander, a graduate of Morgan State college, appeared in 56 games, winning 15 and saving at least 15 more.

Despite his brilliant record eyebrows were lifted when Dressen nominated Black to pitch today's World Series opener against the mighty New York Yankees.

Black responded with a fine 4-2 six-hit triumph. He's the first rookie to win a World Series opened since Spec Shea of the Yanks turned back Brooklyn in 1947. Shea, however, failed to last, bowing out for a pinch-hitter in a game-winning fifth inning rally.

The Dodger meal ticket was far from relaxed in the Dodger dressing room after the game.

Dressen's gamble with Black paid off in spades. Now he has Eskine ready for tomorrow with plenty of relief help in back of him. Roe, veteran left-hander, will work the Yankee Stadium opener Friday.

Of course, the Yanks lost the opener last year, too, when Reynolds was beaten by Dave Koss of the Giants. They even dropped two out of three but then bounced back, after a day of rain, to close out the series by winning three in a row.

Reynolds, a 20-game winner, was up to his neck in quick sand through the early innings. His own control trouble was his big problem, more than the Dodger bats. He walked only two but was always behind the batters.

Cox lined out on Reynolds' first pitch of the game. But the next touch-downs.

Draft Pursues Mantle Again

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—The New York Yankees announced today that centerfielder Mickey Mantle, under orders to report to his Miami, Okla., draft board for a physical examination next Monday, had applied for permission to have the tests made here.

The Yankees met the Brooklyn Dodgers in the opener of the World Series today, and it is possible they may be playing a sixth series game Monday.

Under the regulations of Selective Service, he went to the transfer board in New York City and applied for permission to have the physical examination in this city, "a statement by the Yankees said."

"There will be a necessary lapse of time for an exchange of papers between the transfer board and the Oklahoma board, but as soon as a reply from the latter is received, arrangements will be made immediately to set a date for Mantle's physical here."

By BENNETT CERF

A LADY from Boston listened to a refugee from behind the Iron Curtain lecture at her club. Then asked him incredulously at the reception that followed, "Is it true that the Russians eat horsemeat?" "Ah, madam," said the refugee wistfully, "that was in the good old days."

A newly crowned Hollywood queen, very blonde very sexy, told Mike Connolly that her real love was a 60-year-old banker in Wall Street. "Every time he phones me to the coast," she purred, "I get chills up and down my spine."

A sense of humor availed an Omaha husband sought when his wife sued him for divorce on the grounds that he didn't come home at least four nights every week. "Your Honor," protested the husband, "I was just sitting up with a child friend." His Honor snapped, "Divorce granted."

Time out for Baseball

blared the game as vehicles passed the intersection.

The most excited group in town probably were the salesmen in appliance stores who glued themselves to large screened TV sets and enjoyed play while working. In one Evans street store, the interior looked like a theater as clerks, friends and even customers sat in rows of seats aimed at a huge screen.

Although not as fortunate as employees of appliance stores, clerks in other establishments also reflected all their attention on a small radio usually hidden on some shelf of merchandise. But for once neglected customers did not show their wrath. Instead they smilingly approached to ask the score.

The World Series also showed its connection with attendance at West Pottsgrove High school yesterday. A television set was installed in the school's auditorium and pupils were excused from afternoon classes to watch the game.

"We packed in a capacity crowd," said Jessie H. Rosenberry, principal, then as a side comment remarked, "We only had two absentees yesterday as compared to the daily average of 15 or 20."

PUPILS AT Pottstown Senior High school weren't as fortunate. Principal Stanley I. Davenport Jr. reported that the usual custom of broadcasting the game over the school's public address system wasn't done this year because the public address apparatus was out of order.

But it's a pretty safe bet that some portable radios were sneaked into class.

Pottstown's industries also showed consideration for the baseball fans among their employees.

The Dohler-Jarvis corporation reported that radios were installed throughout the plant and general offices and a 4-foot scoreboard was put up in a conspicuous place.

showing scores by innings.

The public address system was used at Firestone Tire and Rubber company to broadcast scores every inning or half inning. Robinson Clay Product company announced that privately owned radios were permitted in the plant for the duration of the Series.

J. ALFRED MARQUET, Pottstown postmaster and baseball enthusiast (he was a leader of the Bobby Shantz Night project), said the radio was turned on in the workroom of the postoffice.

"Everyone was very much interested," he commented, "I think people who normally don't follow baseball were taking a real interest." He said that several people with whom he talked before the game had the feeling "that if Brooklyn was going to win one game"—yesterday was it.

BUT OVERHEARD conversation indicates that many would be willing to dispute that statement.

John Kessler, secretary of the Security Trust company, High and Hanover streets, kept bank patrons informed of the series doings by keeping a radio well tuned up in his teller's cage—at least, that was Kessler's story.

Fellow-employees said Kessler was like the father who went to the circus for his children's sake. Kessler, they said, was an ardent sports fan and most interested in the game himself.

Shifting back to the street scene, strollers were unable to congregate at a favorite World Series listening post—the Hatfield and Shaner store at 150 High street.

For years the firm loudly broadcast the games from an amplifier outside the store—but this year the store is no more. It was torn down to make room for a parking lot.

Mrs. Leonard Hatfield reported that the new Hatfield and Shaner store at High street and Moser road didn't even have a radio turned on yesterday afternoon.

It all goes to show that times change—but the World Series are still played every year.

CHECK PASSER — COAL PRICES —

you knew before you came here that you were going to be arrested and you knew you would have to have the money to pay the debts, then why didn't you make some arrangements to have the money before you came back here?"

Dudley told the justice of the peace that he had not been working for a while and that debts had piled up on him but that he had intentions of getting a job and staying in Pottstown and working to pay back the loss of the persons who had accepted his checks.

"This is a misdemeanor and it's not up to me to settle cases here," Kelley said. "That's up to Montgomery county court. I'm holding you for Montgomery county court in default of $500 bail and if the D.A. (district attorney) wants to let you go if you pay these people the money for the checks, that's up to him."

At the hearing before Cadmus, Howard Peck, Kenilworth, a collector for Levitz Furniture company, testified in behalf of his company that Dudley had given him a check for $25 in payment of a credit account and that some change had been given to Dudley.

Officials Mum On 'Vacation' of Economics Aide

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 (AP)—Mrs. Lenn Keyserling, wife of President Truman's top economic adviser, said Dudley had given him a check for $5 in payment of a $3 gasoline bill.

Dudley admitted the charges and told the men he was aware of his debts. Both complainants agreed to accept payment for the checks and withdraw charges.

Dudley must produce the money for the checks and costs to Cadmus before these two charges may be withdrawn.

Dudley was living in Pine Forge when the alleged offenses were committed and soon after moved to Virginia. His wife followed about a week later, he said.

The past January he moved with his wife and a new born child to Washington, D. C., where he remained until the past Tuesday, the day he was arrested.

Warrants had been issued for his arrest in August, 1951, but Dudley could not be located at that time since he had already left for Virginia.

TEACHERS MEET —

Forty-five teachers from Philadelphia, Abington, Lower Merion, Phoenixville and representatives of the Montgomery County Teachers association, including Pottstown teachers, attended the event.

The program was planned by Raymond Webster, director of field service for the State organization.

Serving on the local committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. Ludwig were Mrs. David Stevenson, Walter McCurdy, Marion Giles and William Mowder.

In 1952 Greece and Turkey agreed in permit citizens to cross the border between the two countries without passports.

Pottstown's Finest

Hope for the future lies in Pottstown's schools. The Mercury is publishing pictures of Pottstown's finest, the children in our schools. Every day a new room of school children will be shown here. Save the series, and enjoy them anew in future years.

Outnumbered four to one, the six girls on this picture shouldn't have any trouble being popular with the 24 boys, all members of Miss Kathleen M. Guenther's Ninth grade class at Pottstown Junior High school. Smiling at the photographer in the first row, left to right, are David Zeigler, Richard Stoudt, Shirley Brown, Nancy Reider, Carol Popper, Barbara Vost, Gail Wagner and Donna Boyer. From left to right in row two are Gilbert Pennypacker, Kenneth Tinney, Donald

Threat to Strangle German Traffic Seen As Stall by Russians

BERLIN, Oct. 1 (AP) — Gen. Vasily Chuikov, commander of the Soviet army in Germany, tonight threatened a new strangling of West Berlin's traffic across the East zone to Western Germany.

In a protest to US High Commissioner Walter Donnelly, Chuikov attacked Anti-Communist groups in West Berlin and said their "terror and sabotage" were financed by Western money.

He named in his letter the Fighting Group Against Inhumanity, and Free Jurists League, the Christian Democratic Union, the West Berlin newspaper Telegram and the American-sponsored radio station Rias. He declared all were "financed by American, British and French espionage services."

The Soviet chief demanded that Donnelly take steps to "curb the activities" of what he called spy and terror centers in West Berlin.

HE THEN declared the Soviet zone "will have to take measures against the infiltration of criminal elements into the German Democratic republic which will encroach upon the ways of traffic between West Berlin and Soviet zone, as well as the East sector."

He said these measures necessarily would affect "the normal way of life in West Berlin."

Aides of Donnelly, who arrived in Berlin by air tonight, said the Russians appeared to be constructing an excuse for their failure to release Dr. Walter Linse, an official of the Free Jurists League. Linse was kidnapped by Communists in the Western sector the past July 8 and carried into the East zone.

Donnelly has asked for Linse's release, and also has demanded that anti-Communist organizations in West Berlin were engaged in terror and sabotage. Chuikov's letter, in response to this demand, gave an account of a number of trials in the Soviet zone. Communists imprisoned scores of men and women for long terms on charges they were paid Western agents.

County Safety Council Woman Withdraws Announces Awards Charges; Gets Costs

Announcement of safety awards and discussion of the Pennsylvania Motor Vehicle code were the business of the Montgomery county safety council at its regular monthly meeting in the courthouse at Norristown at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Chairman O. C. Beacraft presided at the meeting.

National Safety council awards in the form of framed certificates were announced, and will be given to the boroughs of Bridgeport, Jenkintown and Narberth. The three boroughs had no fatal accidents within their boundaries in 1951.

The council continued its discussion of amendments to section 1002, article 10 of the Pennsylvania Motor code, which has been under fire because of its confusing subsection. District Attorney J. Stroud Weber, Evansburg, who attended the meeting, took part in the discussion.

COAL REPORT MADE WILKES-BARRE, Oct. 1 (AP) — An estimated 15 1/2 percent of coal supplies the United States consumes annually was above ground the past Aug. 1, an Anthracite Institute bulletin reported today.

HE THEN declared the Soviet zone "will have to take measures against the infiltration of criminal elements into the German Democratic republic which will encroach upon the ways of traffic between West Berlin and Soviet zone, as well as the East sector."

JOSEPH KISCH, 64, of 230 MINTZ STREET, husband of Elizabeth (Zscho) Kisch, died at his home last night at 7:35 o'clock following a short illness. He was born in Hungary and had lived at his present address since 1923. Since 1924 he had been employed as a laborer at The Hill school. Surviving are his wife; a daughter, Elizabeth, wife of Frank Doras, 48 Isabelle street; a son, Paul, Phoenixville; 11 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren. Funeral arrangements in charge of a funeral home at 142 North Washington street are not yet complete.

WILLIAM M. ECKER, 81, PARK BOULEVARD, husband of the late Elizabeth (Hornberger) Ecker, died yesterday afternoon at Pottstown hospital. He had been in failing health for the past year and a patient in the hospital for the past 15 days. Born in Chester county, he was a son of the late Samuel and Emeline (Davidheiser) Ecker. Mr. Ecker had lived in Pottstown for the past 14 years. Prior to his retirement eight years ago, he was employed in the template shop at the Bethlehem Steel company. Mr. Ecker is survived by the following sons and daughters: Rufus Ecker, Pottstown RD 1; Lawrence Ecker, Germany; Mrs. Dorothy Trollinger, 307 North Evans street; Sarah, wife of Earl Custer, Park boulevard; 11 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren. Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from a funeral home at 404 High street. The Rev. Dr. Luther A. Krouse, pastor of Emmanuel Lutheran church, will officiate. Interment will be made in Shenkel cemetery, Chester county.

HOWARD E. WOLFE, widower of Kathryn E. (Moyer) Wolfe, 126 EAST THIRD STREET, died yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at Memorial hospital. He was 53. Mr. Wolfe became ill the beginning of the past August and was admitted to Memorial hospital Aug. 31, remaining there until his death. The son of the late Harry J. and Clara (Rahr) Wolfe, he was a lifetime resident of Pottstown. His wife died March 20, 1950. Mr. Wolfe had been a real estate salesman for Robert H. DeLong Real Estate agency for the past four years. Prior to that he was a co-owner of a West High street gas station for seven years. His partner in the service station business was the late Luther Boyer. Mr. Wolfe was a member of the Emmanuel Lutheran church; the Stichter Lodge 234, P. and A.M.; and Pottstown Lodge 514, B.P.O.E. and Protective Order of Elks. Surviving him are a brother, William A. Wolfe, 215 North Penn street; and a sister, Irene, wife of Benjamin Engles, Collingswood, N. J. Services will be held Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from a funeral home at 258 Beech street. The Rev. Dr. Luther A. Krouse, pastor of Emmanuel Lutheran church, will officiate. Interment will be in St. Aloysius Catholic church cemetery.

Paper Plant, Union To Continue Talks

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 (AP) — Company and union officials called another meeting for tomorrow for a further try at settlement of a strike at the West Virginia Pulp and Paper company plants. The group met with Federal conciliators today in morning and afternoon sessions after a four-day recess. A Federal conciliator said there was nothing new to report after today's meetings. The strike was called Aug. 21 after the company and the CIO United Paperworkers failed to agree on several issues including a wage increase. The company has plants at Luke, Md., Covington, Va., and Williamsburg, Pa.

The Right Approach

POTTSTOWN labor and management must have given some serious thinking to industrial events of the past few weeks. The sad decision to close the Spicer plant becomes more poignant as layoffs continue, as the Dana corporation carries on its plan to move the machinery to an Indiana plant. Workers of long standing soberly accept their paychecks and enclosed notes telling of layoffs "until notified."

If anything, the event pointed up one great need: Better relationship between employer and employee.

This need is not new. Benjamin Fairless, board chairman of the United States Steel corporation, in a recent speech attributed "the rapid deterioration of our human relations in industry" to one fact alone: the lack of contact between the employer and the employee.

Mr. Fairless went on to say: "That is why Philip Murray and I have agreed to set out, this Fall, on a series of trips to the various plants of United States Steel."

"We plan to sit down at the dinner table with the local representative of the union, and of the plant management, and talk things over."

"We want to tell each other our troubles, and help each other to find a solution for them."

"And we hope, in this way, to stop a lot of the friction at its source. In the end, we may even discover that we're not antagonists after all, but just partners and friends."

This is a courageous statement. Admirable is the agreement among top management and top union leader to sit down and discuss problems.

Perhaps if Pottstown had had some of this cordial relationship, the Spicer debacle might never have happened. It isn't too late for this spirit of cooperation to spread and perhaps save future hardships.

A Duty and a Privilege

THE retailers of America, with few exceptions, always have been active in sponsoring and helping with community betterment campaigns, charity drives, and other such worthwhile endeavors. And this year many thousands of retailers are putting their backs behind one of the most important campaigns of all—to get out the vote.

A national Get-Out-The-Vote Committee has been appointed by a large retail association and it reports excellent results. Almost half the states have been covered by field work and the rest have been organized by correspondence. Other retail groups are co-operating wholeheartedly. Activities vary from town to town and store to store. One store is running a city-wide letter writing contest on "why I intend to vote."

Another plans to devote its full bank of windows to showing the need for voting. A chain is featuring get-out-the-vote posters in all its outlets and is distributing "vote" leaflets to employees and customers.

In the past, millions of people who have the right to vote have failed to exercise it. That means we have government by a minority.

The secret ballot is the cornerstone of freedom and representative government. Use it.

The Boss

WHO is the real "boss" when it comes to establishing meat prices?

Various people will give various answers to that question. Some will say the farmer and rancher, some the meat packer, some the butcher. But, in the view of L. H. Simerl, Illinois College of Agriculture economist, all of these answers would be wrong. The real "boss," he says, is Mrs. Housewife.

In his Outlook Letter, Mr. Simerl writes, "The average family in this country spends about 5 1/2 percent of its income for meat. For example, suppose that a family receives $500 every payday after Federal taxes are taken out. Of this $500, about $5.50 will be spent for meat. That was the proportion spent in 1951, and the percentage was the same 25 years ago."

There's a sound reason why this proportion should be stable over the years, and Mr. Simerl explains it in these words: "Prices of meat are almost sure to rise with every increase in consumer income and spending power. In the same way, prices are reduced when consumer buying power takes a tumble. Consumer incomes are about four times as high as they were 20 years ago, and prices for meats are also about four times as high."

This is an excellent example of how the classic supply and demand economic system operates. There is always a very definite relationship between the cost of goods and consumer income. And in this system which has produced the highest living standards for the masses of United States citizens.

Narrow Escape Still Worries Mother

To Live in Fear
To the Editor: I think police protection in the Pottstown area is pretty bad.

This past Sept. 17 my daughter, Shirley Heidenreich, was studying in the kitchen of our Sanatoga Station road home when a bullet nearly killed her.

I don't think this case has been properly investigated. I am not satisfied. I would like to know if the shooting was done by a group of boys.

If it was and if they would tell me their names I won't report them. But if the guilty person or persons don't admit the shooting then I shall ask a detective to look into the case.

It is a terrible thing to live in fear, never knowing what may happen in the dark. I think the whole thing is a cover-up deal. I think some boys were playing with firearms and got scared and hid them. They had plenty of time to get away. It was a half hour until Mr. Chrusch (Harry Chrusch, chief of police in Lower Pottsgrove township) got here.

This case just blew over like nothing happened. Both my husband and I are citizens of Lower Pottsgrove township and pay taxes and deserve as much as the next person.

That bullet came straight across the middle of the highway. We are not satisfied with the deal we got. The metal chair was the only thing which saved my daughter's life. It was a miracle. I don't want it to happen again. If the bullet was fired by a group of boys and they are not detected the incident may be repeated.

The next time we may not be as lucky.

Plan is Faulty

To the Editor: A few weeks ago a group of us got together and tried to get a better deal.

Well, on Saturday night at the YMCA dance it was announced that dances would be held Wednesday nights from 8 to 10 o'clock for "teen-agers" under 15 years of age and on Saturday night the dance would be open for the same group for the same hours. They would have to leave the dance after 10 p. m., intermission time.

I don't think this is a good plan and it doesn't solve the problem of the teen age center—it makes it worse. Needless to say the plan is not very popular with teenagers.

The new ruling for Saturday night could create a problem for parents with children above and below the age of 15 attending the dance. The parents would have to call twice at the "Y" to pick up the children.

If there is any possible way to change the plan it would be appreciated by both teen-agers and parents.

To the Editor: Where is the dog catcher? I've only lived here in the North End several weeks, and already we have dog troubles.

Some neighbors seem to be privileged to allow their dogs to run loose all the time. Phone calls to the owners don't do any good. So please let the whole town know about it—maybe that will help chain the dogs.

WASHINGTON

Ex U S Attorney General Knew of Capitol Deals

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 — President Truman's surprise appointment of former Attorney General Tom Clark to the Supreme court has turned out to be a foresighted move with respect to the present campaign, in view of many Chief Committee members' belief that he was largely responsible for the morale breakdown in the Department of Justice.

With General Eisenhower now free of Nixon trouble and determined to pound away on the issue of "Truman's corruption," Clark's black robes may permit him to shroud many damaging secrets. If it were not for his judicial position, he would be placed on the witness stand immediately, as was his successor, J. Howard McGrath. The reasons are obvious.

Committee investigators note that the Texas jurist held two of the most responsible posts during the period in which major scandals occurred. He headed the Criminal Division from August, 1943, to June, 1945, and he was Attorney General from then until August, 1949. Almost all the tax and anti-trust lawyers now under Congressional investigation were his selections and favorites.

CAUDLE CRONY: It was Clark, for instance, who brought the indiscreet and inept Theron Lamar Caudle into the department after the AG had been lavishly entertained by the North Carolinian and fellow-attorneys during bar conventions and inspection trips. Caudle's previous record as US Attorney at Charlotte had not shown him to have the necessary qualifications.

Clark and Caudle became cronies, socially and politically. They traveled in the same social circles, and they were tireless travelers. Clark knew of his subordinate's association with political lawyers representing tax defendants. It was only natural for Caudle, awed and inexperienced by "high society," as he said, to believe that he was "doing nothing wrong."

Indeed, the latest testimony suggests that the North Carolinian was not fired by Truman for his outside "activities" and indiscretions. It appears that he had antagonized powerful friends of the White House and Capital Hill.

NEGLECT: Committee members also point out that neither Clark nor McGrath ever found fault with Caudle, and that Truman wrote him a warm, first-name note only a few weeks before the summary dismissal.

Clark's failure to detect delinquencies is understandable. He neglected his duties wretchedly. Craving headlines, the erstwhile Texas lobbyist used to make several speeches a day, whether before a lawyer's luncheon or a Boy Scout troop. He was one of the jokes at the Capital. He was an ubiquitous guest at lunches, receptions and dinners.

These easy-going ways and political interests left the department without supervision. The agency was run by men like Caudle and many others whom Attorney General McGrath had had to fire in his reorganization. Taking their cue from Clark, they did favors and feathered their own nests.

The question of summoning Clark before the Chief group has been raised many times in executive sessions. It usually provokes a partisan row.

Several Republicans maintain that the origin of laxity in the D of J cannot be ascertained without his accounting of his stewardship. They also insist that his information is essential to any consideration of corrective methods, including removal of the Federal Law Department from political influence. Democrats, understandably, wish to avoid such extreme action in the midst of the campaign.

So far Clark refuses to acknowledge or comply with the implied invitation that he appear and testify.

The Voice of Broadway

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

(Dorothy Kilgallen is on vacation. Pinch-hitting for her today is the well known Broadway producer and Hollywood writer, Richard Condon.)

Richard Condon Writes:
THE MOVIE fan magazines and Hollywood columns flood the country with news and views about Hollywood's citizenry—but here are some highlights that haven't crashed through.

For example, when "African Queen" was filmed in the torrid jungles of the Dark Continent, the plagues were plentiful. The heat, the humidity, the downpours, the smelly swamps, the animals and the bugs. Yes, those bugs! Everyone from Katie Hepburn down to the script gal and make-up slaves was a 24-hour-a-day target for the dive-bombing bugs.

Everyone, that is, except of Humph Bogart. Bogie sat around the sets, bothered nary a bit, and just laughed away watching all the others constantly slap at themselves and apply palms full of soothing lotion to the bitten areas. He particularly roared at the sight of la Hepburn squirming and scratching and lotioning in misery.

Finally, his slender co-star could stand it no longer. She walked up behind Bogie, whacked him hard on the back and yelled, "What's so funny? How do you keep these blasted bugs from biting you?"

"Little girl," he replied with a mischievous gleam in the cold Bogart eyes, "all of you are making the mistake of using your bottle for the outside. I'm using it for the inside."

THERE'S ALWAYS plenty of silly shenanigans whenever Bob Hope is making a flicker. The day the Paramount studios scheduled the bathtub sequence in his latest, "Son of Paleface," the lot was swamped with visitors. Even nephews of the producers' nephews were on hand to take pictures. No less a Venus than Jane Russell was to be the gal in the tub.

When Bob arrived on the set, the surrounding crowd was about 10 deep. He disappeared quickly. Ten minutes later a character in white ducks, white jacket and white cap pulled down over his eyes pushed his way clumsily through the mob yelling "Peanuts! Candy! Crackerjack! C'mon, spend some dough, you people!"

The candy butcher was no one but Hope himself—and he even had several bars of candy in his hands, picked up at the studio stand, and sold each one for a dime, pocketing the money as he pushed his way on towards the cameras. Anything for laffs.

IN ONE scene of "Just For You," the new Crosby musical, Ethel Barrymore had to appear sporting a jockey cap while she piloted a 3-wheeled motorcycle. Bing was somewhat concerned that the venerable star might object to such nonsense that wasn't exactly in keeping with her usually dignified school-marm roles.

Before the cameras started rolling, Bing pulled director Elliot Nugent aside and said: "Wonder how Ethel will feel about racing along wearing that funny looking jockey cap?"

Miss Barrymore overheard Crosby tell of his concern and piped up: "I hope I do good here. This may mean a booking at Santa Anita!"

Another "inside" tale of Hollywood doesn't end on such a humorous note—although the heroine of this particular episode took it like a major.

When they started casting "The Snows of Kilimanjaro" early in 1951, Luscious Lisa Ferraday was handed a fat part. As a flirtatious gown designer in the Hemingway saga, she was to have her chance at Gregory Peck along with Ava Gardner, Susan Hayward and Hildegard Neff—which methinks is a nice chance if you can get it.

LAMPLIGHTER—Harrison Schaeffer was named Stowe Lamplighter and he will attend to 30 new coal oil lights placed in various parts of Stowe by the property committee of Borough Council.

FATAL BURNS — Bessie Miller, 51, of Kenilworth died in a local hospital from burns suffered when her clothing became ignited at a rubbish fire at her home. A plumber, Ernest Ropeter, 959 High Street, extinguished the fire.

Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 1 — Tyrone Power is joining the radio and TV efforts to get out the vote in November. Why, oh why is it necessary to persuade some people to vote when others give their lives for the chance to cast a ballot?

Nickie Hill has quit fitting for a while at least, and is spending most of his time with Ilse Bey. If you go in the wrong door, you may come out a movie star. At least that's what happened to blonde Margaret Barlow. An expert swimmer, Margaret was called to Warner's for a swimming short subject. By mistake she went into the wrong office, where Dance Director Leroy Prinz took one look and signed her as a showgirl in "The Jazz Singer."

HOW COME the Sid Melton's are talking to attorneys after only a month of marriage? It may be a month yet before Glenn Ford is sufficiently recovered from his painful accident to resume work on "The Man From the Alamo." Ken Tobey was unfortunate enough to hear a pair of bobby-soxers talking as he got out of his car in front of the Brown Derby for lunch. "That's the actor Ken Tobey," squealed the little girl. "Aw," replied her male companion, "he can't be so much. He doesn't even drive a foreign car!"

JUNE VINCENT's up for a term contract at 20th Century-Fox. Reports from London are that Sonny Tufts continues to be a big hit in the provinces there. Come to think of it, I don't believe Sonny Tufts is considering that job at RKO. "Reaching for the Stars," the picture starring Ginger Rogers, Bill Holden and Paul Douglas, has had a title change to "Forever Female." Incidentally, there are several top actresses, with LONG careers behind them, who are thinking of getting smart like Ginger: taking a big cut in their asking price so they can keep working in important movies.

Lewis Milestone, the only American director to win a British Film Academy award (for "All Quiet on the Western Front"), is taking his current picture, "Melba," starring Patrice Munsell, inside the sacred precincts of the Royal Covent Garden opera for location shots next week. Paul Kelly plays the title role in the TV film series, "Duffy of San Quentin." As time grows shorter the wise boys are changing their minds and admitting that Bette Davis is likely to go through with her stage appearance in "Two's Company." Line from "The Happy Time." "You lose so many golden opportunities to keep your mouth shut."

ALL AROUND THE TOWN

Flys to Patient...

Looks for Father...

★ FLYING NURSE—Mrs. Elaine D. Michael, 34 East Fourth street, a registered nurse, made the first airplane flight of her life on Tuesday to help a former Pottstown man, Robert J. Baldwin, come back within reach of his many friends. Baldwin, 43-year-old son of Mrs. Icie D. Baldwin, 104 King street, lived here most of his life. Several years ago, he moved to upstate New York. For the past 2 1/2 years, he's been in a sanatorium in Watertown, N. Y., close to the Canadian border. Because he knew few people up there, and because members of his family seldom were able to make the gruelling 10-hour trip to see him, Baldwin was just plain lonely.

DOCTORS said he could return to Pennsylvania only by airplane, accompanied by a nurse. Mrs. D. Michael flew from Reading airport in a silver, two-engine private plane. "I was scared to death at first," she said, "but it turned out to be just wonderful." Baldwin, who made the flight in a stretcher, was taken to Berks County Tuberculosis sanatorium in Bern township, near Reading. It was his first airplane ride, too. Both the mother and nurse reported that he seemed to be helped just by getting so much closer to home. A card or a visit by his friends wouldn't do any harm either.

★ BY THE WAY, Mrs. Baldwin's unusual first name, "Icie," and the middle initial, "D." are a contraction of Icedora. When she first started in school, she decided that Icedora was not the name for her, and has been using Icie D. ever since. Occasional confusion results from the fact that another well-known Mrs. Baldwin in the Pottstown area is Mrs. Inez Baldwin, Pottstown Star Route. The latter's middle initial also is "D." Dr. W. D. Phillips, the High and Evans street optometrist, is preparing for his annual jaunt to Florida for the winter season. He has bought a new auto, just about is set for the flight.

WRITER—Horace F. Quigley, Pottstown machinist, is a married man. But he got a letter from a strange woman the other day. And thereby hangs a tale. The letter came from Mrs. Edythe Monk, Burlington Junction, Mo., that's what made the letter more puzzling. Quigley never was in Missouri. When he was in the Army, he passed through the State, but never stopped there. So the letter puzzled him until he read its plea. Mrs. Monk said her father was a John Daniel Quigley, whom she believed lived in Pottstown 75 years ago. His parents were John and Caroline (Fidler) Quigley. When young, the present Mrs. Monk was separated from her family, now is looking for them.

★ SHE SAID she lost trace of her family when they lived in Columbus, Ohio, in 1889. Then her parents moved to Chicago. Since then she heard from her father, who was in Atlantic City, N. J. Mrs. Monk is looking for information about her family. Anybody who knows anything helpful please write Quigley at 15 East Second street, or telephone or write this column. Nick Yaculak, the Pottstown mason, ran into an unusual condition when he laid a concrete sidewalk at Prospect street and First avenue. Yaculak couldn't dig a foundation. He ran into a start of stone, had to blast with dynamite. Charles "Chub" Harburger, for many years a Bethlehem Steel draftsman, has switched to Builders' Equipment and Supply, where he is drawing building plans and the like.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

MANY DIFFERENT types of infection can attack the mouth, the most prominent entrance to the body. One of the commonest of these is thrush, an infection that produces white sores. They are usually found on the tongue, the insides of the cheeks, the gums, and the wall of the throat. The infection is caused by a yeast-like fungus called Monilia albicans.

In recent years, the greater use of various antibiotic drugs in the mouth has brought on many new cases of thrush. As I have pointed out in previous columns, these useful drugs not only kill disease germs, but also many bacteria that fight off unwanted growths such as the Monilia fungi. This is an invitation for the fungi to grow in the mouth and causes thrush.

Many times, people taking penicillin develop a peculiar darkened type of tongue, accompanied by a thrush infection. As a rule, the infection also increases the flow of saliva. Sometimes the fungus spreads from the mouth to infect the rectum, reproductive organs, or various other parts of the skin.

In the mouth, thrush generally produces characteristic pearly white, curdy flakes on the affected surface. This type of infection is more often seen in infants than older children or adults.

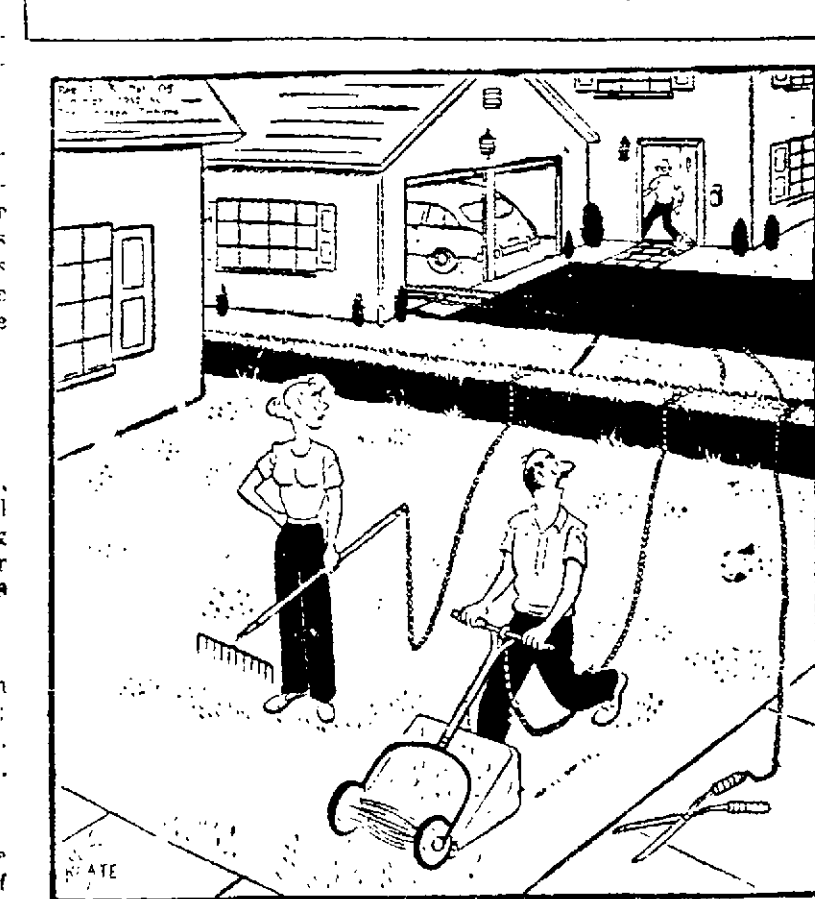

As a rule, the person with thrush is also suffering from some other disease which is weakening the body, and his mouth is not getting the proper hygienic care. The infection may occur in older people as a result of poorly-fitted dentures.

Thrush is easily controlled by prompt treatment. The use of certain dyes, such as methylene blue or methyl violet, are very effective in clearing it up.

An alcoholic solution of mercuriochrome is also of great help. Usually, the sore is cleansed with a slightly alkaline solution and then painted with a dye. This treatment should be continued for some time, as it may take several months to eradicate the fungus.

The infection should be treated under the care of a physician, to speed recovery.

Library Report Says Summer Circulation Hit 20,178 Mark

If Pottstown Public library patrons spent much time out of doors the past Summer they must have taken their books with them. Circulation of books from the library reached a total of 20,178 for the Summer months, according to a report made by Freda F. Glose, librarian, at a meeting of the directors.

Fiction was about three times as popular as non-fiction with juvenile and adult readers alike, showing a preference for light reading during the hot weather.

There were 6225 readers using the library the past Summer. Adult readers took out a total of 12,641 books, of which 9622 were fiction and 3019 non-fiction.

JUVENILE READERS read 5884 volumes of fiction and 1845 of non-fiction.

Registrations the past Summer totaled 356, of which 250 were adult and 106 juvenile.

Gifts for the library were received from:

Justine Andre, Mildred Bender, Mrs. Raymond J. Blegen, Jean Carnahan, Pearl Dengler, Mrs. Michael Ferris, George L. Fisher, Burgess William A. Griffith, Mrs. Mary M. Grole, Paul Gross, James Harley, Mrs. Gladys Hillpot, Gordon Istenes, Mrs. Eleanor Jones, Mary Kearns, Rufus Keck, Thurlay Leighton, Mrs. George McLain, H. B. May, Betty Piersol, Mrs. Raymond Piersol, Mrs. Sidney Pollock, Pottstown Garden club, Mrs. Dorothy Richards, Mrs. Eileen Roth, Dominick Shipkovsky, Eva Titanic, 20th Century Book club, Mrs. Robert Von Drach and Mrs. Mary Wagner.

Directors present at the meeting of the library board were: Paul Chancellor, Mrs. Harry L. Christman, Charles J. Custer, John McCabe, Mrs. Joseph Prince, Helen Purnell, Irvin W. Riegner, Charles L. Rohland, Thomas F. Storm and Mrs. Alex V. Tisdale.

Story Hour will resume its meetings tomorrow afternoon in the Story Hour room at 4 o'clock.

of air mailing.

While the steady increase has gratified Marquet, it has not profited him financially. The Government bases salaries of postmaster's partly on the size of their office's receipts.

But Pottstown's receipts will have to go over $400,000 before Marquet gets such a raise. And almost touching the truck's left rear wheel.

GIs Fight Off Red 'Celebration' Attacks With Fists, Bayonets; Regain Lost Hill

SEOUL, Thursday, Oct. 2 (AP)—Communist regime in Peiping.

Chinese Communist troops struck hard on the central Korean front Wednesday, but took it easy in the West and flew pennants in frontline "Independence Day" celebrations.

The Communists fought to the summit of a disputed hill on the central front west of the Pukham river, but were thrown back down the slope in desperate fighting with fists and bayonets.

East of the Pukham, Republic of Korea Third division troops tried to seize a hill position they lost to the enemy Monday, but broke off the action early Wednesday with the Communists still on the summit.

AP Correspondent Milo Farnetti on the Western front said the Communists broke out red, white, pink, yellow, green and blue pennants in celebration of the third anniversary of the founding of the Chinese Communist regime.

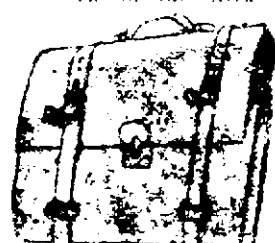

Couple Will Base Suit On Mouse, Fragile Table

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 1 (AP)—A $10,000 damage suit filed in Superior court is based on a mouse "fragile table and negligent" landlords.

The suit was filed by Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Adler against Mr. and Mrs. Roy Larson, the couple from whom they rent their apartment.

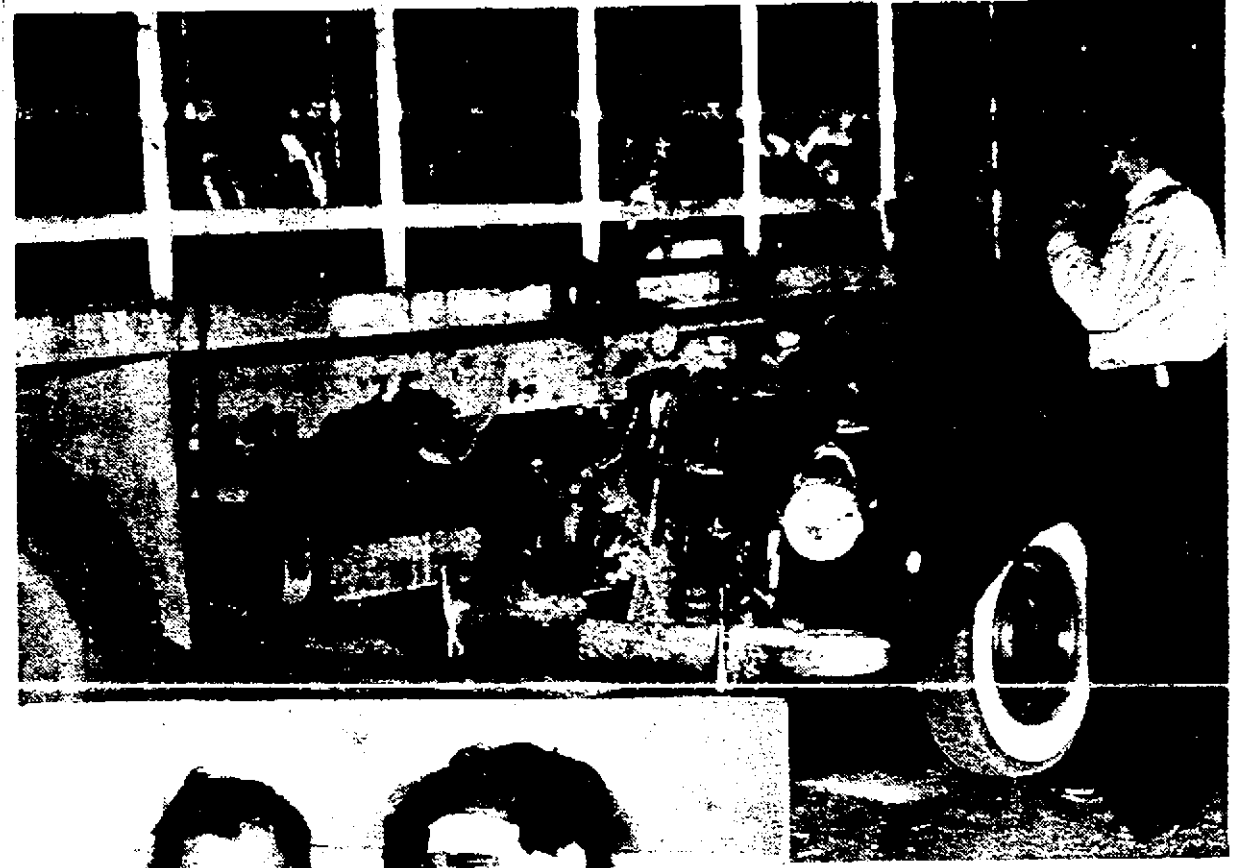

The suit says Mrs. Adler was frightened by the mouse, backed into a table, which collapsed, and suffered a broken leg. It says the Larsons were "negligent in allowing the mouse to enter the apartment" and for not warning the Adlers about the fragile table.

THE SEWER line serves the new Doehler-Jarvis corporation plant under construction, the Columbia Boiler Works company and the Bramante hotel. There is a spot on the line that Gudebrod Brothers Silk company can hook up, according to Russell P. Yost, commissioner.

Presiding at last night's meeting was Elmer E. Hampton, vice president. Peter Dori, president, was absent due to illness in his family.

Other commissioners present in addition to Yost were Charles E. Frech and William Regan Jr. Police Chief James Guadagno reported he made four investigations during the past month.

TEEN-AGERS HURT —

Ludy said he was in the outer eastbound traffic lane and driving at a moderate speed when he suddenly saw the truck. He said the truck's parking lights were not turned on. The front end of the car plowed under the body of the truck before Ludy could avoid the crash.

The hood of the auto was ripped off and shoved into the windshield, which shattered and cut the two boys. The front end of the car was about five feet under the truck after the crash and almost touching the truck's left rear wheel.

Philadelphia, driver of the truck, which is owned by Silver brothers, a metal barrel concern in Philadelphia, said he had parked the truck to seek directions from a nearby service station and coal yard. The truck was undamaged.

Motor Patrolman Paul I. Galloway and Patrolman John Kirlin arrived a few minutes after the accident and began an investigation. Jeffersonville State Policemen Carl Ziegler and Joseph Brennan who happened on the scene directed traffic and the crowd of approximately 250 persons which gathered quickly.

Re-election of Dague Endorsed at Meeting

The Chester County Young Republicans met last night to endorse Paul Dague for re-election as representative in the General Assembly for Chester and Lancaster counties.

Representatives from at least half of the townships in the county which the present administration including North Coventry, South Coventry, East Coventry and Warwick boosted the attendance to about 70 at the Mansion House in West Chester.

The group was formed to foster the campaign for Eisenhower, President, at the meeting last night.

In his speech Dague told the young Republicans of the dangers of "governmental bankruptcy" which the present administration threatens the country with.

Bandits Get $3100 After Hitting Motorist

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 1 (AP)—Two bandits, $3100 and a motorist's car, slugged him on the head with a money bag containing the cash which was lying on the floor in the rear of the machine.

It was formerly believed that the earliest men were of very large size and that contemporary men were dwarfed descendants, but in recent centuries it has been recognized that there is little or no basis for such a belief.

Eisenhower Meets Byrnes

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina and Mrs. Byrnes meet again as the Republican presidential nominee arrived in Columbia, S. C., for campaign speech. Byrnes, a life-long Democrat, said recently he would support Eisenhower.

GOP Senator Hits Truman in Bulletin

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 (AP)—Sen. William Knowland of California said today that President Truman is "trying to steal the public power program from the Republicans."

"The Republicans started the whole public power program with the Hoover dam, which Franklin Roosevelt first stole in 1933 and which Mr. Truman persistently called 'Boulder dam' in his speech today," Knowland said.

The senator's attack was made in a statement put out by the Republican national committee marked: "Bulletin No. 8—Truman Misrepresentation." The committee has been getting out a series of statements challenging Truman's statements on his whistle-stop tour through the Northwest.

Chop suey was concocted in New York City on Aug. 29, 1936, by the chef of a rich, visiting Chinese, Li Hung-Chang, especially designed to appeal to both American and Oriental tastes. It was unknown in China at that time.

Cynthia Xanthopoulos Named Pottstown's Entry in Moose Youth Safety Award Contest

The name of a 12-year-old Pottstown Junior High school pupil, Cynthia Xanthopoulos, has been forwarded to Moose youth award judges in Mooseheart, Ill., as the representative entry in the organization's Youth Honor Day Safety Awards contest for 1952.

This announcement came yesterday from George O. Rhoads, secretary of the local Moose lodge.

Cynthia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Xanthopoulos, 1410 Cherry lane, was selected by a committee headed by Earl R. Strange, member of the local lodge and director of safety for the Pottstown school system, as the girl who did the most outstanding job to promote safety during the past year.

The decision of the local committee was determined by the fact that the girl was outstanding in the following as a member of the safety patrol: dependability, attendance; conscientiousness; courtesy; performance on duties without exceeding authority; commanded respect and received cooperation of pupils, patrols and teachers; obedience of all safety rules; sense of responsibility, initiative and leadership.

THE LOCAL winner will be presented with an embossed parchment certificate of merit, signed by Malcolm R. Giles, director general of the Moose, and Bobby Benson, child cowboy star of the Mutual Broadcasting system.

The certificate and a gift will be presented Miss Xanthopoulos on Moose Youth Honor Day, Oct. 31, during a celebration in her honor at the local Moose quarters.

In addition to this, the girl also will be eligible to win one of four regional prizes, an all-expense paid trip to Mooseheart, Ill., for 31, during a celebration in her honor at the local Moose quarters.

At the regular session at 6:30 o'clock in the Cloverleaf restaurant, the expert will tell of the origin of window painting and the methods of running competitions for school children.

The Halloween artistry was originated by the Trenton club and has become a nationwide Halloween custom.

'Value of Honey Bee' Topic for Business Talk

George W. Copeland, Hanover Heights, will speak at tonight's meeting of the Pottstown American Business Club on "The Value of the Honey Bee to Man."

Copeland is the guest speaker at the ABC's dinner meeting at 7 o'clock in the Elks home. He said he has raised bees as a hobby "all my life."

The 67-year-old Copeland said his father also raised bees as a hobby. "That's how I got started on my hobby so early in life," he said.

Day of Mishaps Hints Ike Campaign Train Doesn't Like Oratory

ABOARD THE EISENHOWER SPECIAL, Oct. 1 — You would have thought a Democrat in disguise was aboard this special train today fouling things up for GOP Presidential nominee Dwight D. Eisenhower.

First, the loudspeaking system failed.

Then the engineer up front and occupants of the rear platform were having signal trouble. At two Michigan stops—Saginaw and Lapeer—the train began to drift away from the station before Eisenhower had hardly begun his speeches to large crowds.

The loudspeaker went out at Saginaw and you couldn't hear the General. He still was talking as the train drew away from the disappointed crowd.

At Lapeer, the train started Mt. Pleasant township residents 100 before the General could get asked $75,000 from the Carpenter-town Coal and Coke company today.

He explained in exasperation, in Westmoreland county court for damages, but this train has been coming from the mine's reuse piece.

Later, the General told a small train-side group:

"I think it was just an honest mistake somewhere."

DAMAGES ASKED

GREENSBURG, Oct. 1 (AP)—Five town Coal and Coke company today asked $75,000 from the Carpenter-town Coal and Coke company today for damages, but this train has been coming from the mine's reuse piece.

Later, the General told a small train-side group:

"I think it was just an honest mistake somewhere."

From 100 tons of dry sugar cane it is possible to make almost 3000 gallons of gasoline, more than 4500 gallons of oil and more than eight tons of sugar.
